Shaping Medieval Markets
Shaping Medieval Markets

The Organisation of Commodity Markets in Holland, c. 1200–c. 1450

By

Jessica Dijkman

This book is printed on acid-free paper.

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Dijkman, Jessica.
Shaping medieval markets : the organisation of commodity markets in Holland, c. 1200-c. 1450 / by Jessica Dijkman.
   p. cm. -- (Global economic history series, 1872-5155 ; v. 8)
   Includes bibliographical references and index.
   HF3615.D55 2011
   332.64'4094920902--dc23
   2011022975

ISSN 1872-5155
ISBN 978 90 04 20148 4

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, translated, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without prior written permission from the publisher.

Authorization to photocopy items for internal or personal use is granted by Koninklijke Brill NV provided that the appropriate fees are paid directly to The Copyright Clearance Center, 222 Rosewood Drive, Suite 910, Danvers, MA 01923, USA. Fees are subject to change.
vi CONTENTS

5.3 Dordrecht and its neighbours............................................ 179
5.4 Conclusions........................................................................ 197

PART II
THE INSTITUTIONAL FRAMEWORK:
RULES AND PRACTICES

6. Weighing and measuring......................................................... 201
   6.1 Introduction................................................................... 201
   6.2 Control over weights and measures............................ 203
   6.3 Standards and standardisation ...................................... 213
   6.4 Enforcement............................................................... 223
   6.5 Conclusions............................................................... 233

7. Contract enforcement ............................................................. 236
   7.1 Introduction................................................................... 236
   7.2 Merchant guilds........................................................... 239
   7.3 From divine judgement to schepenkenning..................... 249
   7.4 Sureties......................................................................... 255
   7.5 Public registration of debts............................................ 259
   7.6 Conclusions............................................................... 270

PART III
MARKET PERFORMANCE: QUANTITATIVE TESTS

8. Market integration................................................................. 275
   8.1 Introduction................................................................... 275
   8.2 The impact of institutional and non-institutional factors........ 279
   8.3 Methods and data......................................................... 286
   8.4 Price volatility............................................................ 293
   8.5 Price integration......................................................... 301
   8.6 Conclusions............................................................... 311

9. Market orientation................................................................. 313
   9.1 Introduction................................................................... 313
   9.2 Holland......................................................................... 317
   9.3 Flanders......................................................................... 325
CONTENTS

9.4 England ................................................................. 332
9.5 Conclusions ............................................................. 340

10. Conclusions .............................................................. 343
    10.1 Endogenous factors ................................................. 343
    10.2 Exogenous factors .................................................. 352
    10.3 Commodity markets and factor markets .................. 355

Appendix A Survey of fairs .............................................. 359
Appendix B Rural weigh houses in the north of Holland around 1400 ................................................................. 387
Appendix C Charters of urban liberties ............................ 389
Appendix D Wheat prices .................................................. 393

References ........................................................................ 409
Index .............................................................................. 439
LIST OF TABLES

1 Number of medieval fairs in Holland .......................... 43
2 Rural weigh houses in the north of Holland around 1400 ................................................................. 133
3 Dairy shipped to the IJssel towns by ships from Waterland and Zeevang, Kennemerland, and West-Friesland, 1439–1441 ................................................................................... 137
4 Seasonal increase or decrease of wheat prices in selected locations and periods ........................................ 295
5 Annual wheat prices in 1437/38, 1438/39, and 1439/40 as a percentage of average annual prices over the years 1427/28 to 1436/37 in Holland, Flanders, Brabant, and England .............................................................................. 299
6 Correlation coefficient of logs of annual average wheat prices (in grams of silver per hectolitre) between Noordwijkerhout and seven other locations in the Low Countries and England per decade, 1410/11–1439/40....... 308
7 Share of labour input in market-oriented activities, Holland ........................................................................ 325
8 Share of labour input in market-oriented activities, Flanders ....................................................................... 331
9 Share of labour input in market-oriented activities, England ........................................................................ 338
10 Share of labour input in market-oriented activities: Holland, Flanders, and England ........................................ 341
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Illustration</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Holland around 1400</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>Causes and effects of institutions (endogenous system)</td>
<td>19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>Causes and effects of institutions (mixed system)</td>
<td>21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>Towns and villages with fairs</td>
<td>44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>Survival of fairs first recorded before 1500</td>
<td>45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>Periodicity of fairs first recorded between 1350 and 1500</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7</td>
<td>Map of the villages engaged in fishing for plaice in the late 16th century</td>
<td>115</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>Villages listed in the proclamation of 1597 as possessing a weigh house</td>
<td>132</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td>Rural weigh houses in the north of Holland around 1400</td>
<td>134</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10</td>
<td>Geographical situation of Dordrecht, Schoonhoven, and Brielle</td>
<td>163</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11</td>
<td>Monthly wheat price between September and July in the accounts of Leeuwenhorst Abbey as a percentage of the annual wheat price; averages over the years 1410/11–1430/31</td>
<td>296</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12</td>
<td>Variation coefficient of logs of annual average wheat prices (in grams of silver per hectolitre) per decade in Leiden, Noordwijkerhout, and eight other locations in the Low Countries and England, 1390–1440</td>
<td>297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13</td>
<td>Annual average wheat prices (in grams of silver per hectolitre) from 1427/28 to 1439/40 in Holland, Flanders, Brabant, and England</td>
<td>299</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14</td>
<td>Annual average wheat prices (in groten per achtendeel) paid by the Catharinagasthuis and Leeuwenhorst Abbey, 1410/11–1430/31</td>
<td>303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>15</td>
<td>Correlation coefficient of logs of annual average wheat prices (in grams of silver per hectolitre) between nine locations in Holland and the eastern Low Countries, the southern Low Countries, and England, related to the distance between locations, 1410/11–1439/40</td>
<td>307</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Abbreviation</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>AAL</td>
<td>Archief Abdij van Leeuwenhorst (Nationaal Archief)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AG</td>
<td>Archief van de gasthuizen (Regionaal Archief Leiden)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AGH</td>
<td>Archief Graven van Holland (Nationaal Archief)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGB</td>
<td>Archief Stads- en gemeentebestuur van Beverwijk (Noord-Hollands Archief)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BVGO</td>
<td>Bijdragen voor vaderlandsche geschiedenis en oudheidkunde</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>GRRek</td>
<td>Archief Graafelijkheidsrekenkamer, II, Afgehoorde en gedeponeerde rekeningen (Nationaal Archief)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LLRK</td>
<td>Archief Leenhoven en Leen- en Registratiekamer (Nationaal Archief)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NA</td>
<td>Nationaal Archief</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NHA</td>
<td>Noord-Hollands Archief</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>RAL</td>
<td>Regionaal Archief Leiden</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>RGP</td>
<td>Rijksgeschiedkundige Publicatiën</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>VMVOVR</td>
<td>Verslagen en mededeelingen der Vereeniging tot uitgaaf der bronnen van het oud-vaderlandsche recht</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WVOVR</td>
<td>Werken der Vereeniging tot uitgaaf der bronnen van het oud-vaderlandsche recht</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
This book is the revised version of the PhD thesis which I defended at Utrecht University on June 18, 2010. The research on which the thesis was based was carried out as part of the project ‘Markets, power and institutional development: The rise, organisation and institutional development of markets in Holland, 11th–16th centuries’, funded by the Netherlands Organisation of Scientific Research (NWO).

Without the help and support of many people this book would not have been written. Nine years ago, when I combined a job in public administration with a study of history, Oscar Gelderblom hired me as a student-assistant. It was then that I discovered how much I enjoyed doing historical research. Oscar also stimulated me to apply for a position as PhD student. My two supervisors, Bas van Bavel and Jan Luiten van Zanden, not only had the courage to employ me, with my unusual background, but over the years they have also provided many valuable critical comments and challenging suggestions that helped me sharpen my thoughts. I am grateful for their support, encouragement, and trust.

With Jaco Zuijderduijn and Erika Kuijpers I have had many helpful discussions about commodity markets and factor markets in Holland. In the initial phase of my research I profited from the suggestions and comments of the organisers and participants of the Posthumus PhD training programme. Ronald van der Spiegel kept me informed of all references to markets that he came upon in the accounts of the counts of Holland and also allowed me to use his transcription of the Inquisitie of 1369. Christiaan van Bochove shared his knowledge of measuring market integration with me. Christopher Dyer allowed me to use the library of the Centre for English Local History at Leicester University and readily answered my questions about medieval markets in England. Jeroen Benders, Bruce Campbell and Anne DeWindt each commented on draft versions of one or more chapters of the book. Many others also contributed in a variety of ways. I hope they will forgive me for not mentioning all of them separately; I thank them all.

Doing research and writing a dissertation can sometimes be a lonely job, but for me it was not. My colleagues at the Social and Economic History group at Utrecht University provided the stimulating and sociable environment that made writing this book not only an intellectually rewarding, but also a truly enjoyable experience. Finally, I want to thank Renk, who, besides everything else, many years ago stimulated me to enrol as a history student. I am not sure he would have done this if he had realised how much of my time was going to be spent on writing this book; but I am grateful all the same.

Jessica Dijkman
Utrecht, April 2011