The Publisher notifies the readers that Voices of Social Justice and Diversity in a Hawai'i Context: Grandparents, Grandchildren, Schools, Communities, and Churches, edited by Amarjit Singh, M. Luafata Simanu-Klutz and Mike Devine, published in print in hardback, paperback and electronically on September 26, 2019, has been retracted.

On December 23, 2019, the Human Studies Program (HSP) of the University of Hawai'i (UH) notified the Publisher about alleged research misconduct by one of the editors and that a for-cause audit had been initiated on December 11, 2019.

On February 27, 2020, the UH HSP shared the audit's findings with the Publisher. The UH Social & Behavioral Institutional Review Board (IRB) identified research protocol violations by two of the editors, which constitute Serious Non-Compliance.

Based on the audit's findings, the Publisher has decided to withdraw both print and electronic versions of the book out of consideration for the research subjects and in view of irregularities identified by IRB.
