PREFATORY NOTE

Three papers in this collection originated as presentations at the workshop on “Comparative issues in Romanian syntax”, held on August 30, 1996, at the University of New Brunswick, Saint John. Subsequently, these papers have evolved into more complete studies on the structure of possessive DPs, the clitic system, and focus constructions. Also, more linguists have shown their interest in a comparative study of Romanian syntax, and have submitted their contributions for publication.

The book benefited from peer reviewing as a collection, with further reviews for each contribution. For valuable advice and timely reports, I am most grateful to Alexandru Grosu and to the following reviewers: Judy Bernstein, Carmen Dobrovie-Sorin, Donka Farkas, Giuliana Giusti, Julia Horvath, Mihaela Pirvulescu, Georges Rebuschi, Catherine Rudin, Tali Siloni.

This project would not have been possible without helpful advice from Yves D’Hulst and Martine Coene, and patient guidance from Johan Rooryck, to whom I express my gratitude. I would also like to thank Gabriela Alboiu (University of Manitoba) and Julie Brittain (Memorial University of Newfoundland) for most helpful editing work, and Rod Hill (University of New Brunswick) for technical assistance.

Both the workshop and the publication of this collection have been supported by generous grants from the University of New Brunswick, Saint John, and the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada (#410951417).
