PARTICIPATION IN MULTILATERAL TREATIES

KO SWAN SIK*

Editorial introduction

In emphasizing the actual practice of Asian States in the field of international law it has been considered useful to record their participation in open, multilateral law-making treaties which by their nature aim at world-wide adherence. The determination of the priority in which treaties qualify for inclusion is admittedly subjectively prescribed. In view of the limited space available a choice has been made among the great number of treaties included in the sources of information, which were at the Editors' disposal, preparing the manuscript of the present volume. As to the countries included in the survey it has been considered preferable not to include for the time being the Arab countries, Turkey, and Cyprus, despite the fact that these countries are often considered to belong to Asia, either in general or for specific purposes. Similarly, it has been decided not to include the Pacific States east of Papua New Guinea and the Philippines.

It is the Editors' intention to include tables on the status of other treaties in following volumes of the Yearbook, and to record new developments with respect to treaties on which a full table has been published previously. After the publication of a full cycle of tables of chosen treaties a new updated series may be contemplated.

Note:

- Data are mainly derived from Multilateral Treaties deposited with the Secretary General – Status as at 31 December 1990 (ST/LEG/SER.9). Additional sources are mentioned separately at the relevant place.
- No indication is given of reservations and declarations made.
- Sig. = signature; Cons. = consent to be bound.
