Bibliographical Index of International Disaster Law (2021)

(edited by Giulio Bartolini, Associate professor of international law, Roma Tre University)

This bibliography includes books and articles published during the year 2021 and dealing with international disaster law. Items are listed only once, under their most appropriate heading. Unless otherwise specified, texts are in the same language as corresponding entries in the bibliography.

The bibliographical index includes papers on international disaster law having a research/academic content and excludes documents as reports by international organisations, position papers by non-governmental organisations, etc. For such latter documents please refer to the section 'International Disaster Law in Practice'. Any indication of items inadvertently omitted will be appreciated with a view to publication in the next issue of the Yearbook. Please send your suggestions at giulio.bartolini@uniroma3.it
