

BRILL

ECCLESIAL PRACTICES 11 (2024) 191–192

ECCLESIAL PRACTICES

brill.com/ep

Contents

VOLUME 11, NO. 1

EDITORIAL

Ethnographic Theology and Genre: A Different Kind of “Anthropological Turn” 1

Todd Whitmore and Hans Schaeffer

ARTICLES

Can the Theological Ethnographer Pray?: Re-Reading Interview Transcriptions through Lectio Divina 7

Marie-Claire Klassen

Infernal Anamnesis: Dante, Theology, and Writing Addiction 26

Todd Whitmore

Mas to Mass: Mapping Convergences between Trinidad Carnival Performance and Black Catholic Liturgy 46

Nicole S. Symmonds

Finding Words: Risk and Requirements in Theological Ethnographic Writing 64

Jackson Wolford

Captivated by the Normate and Summoned by the Holy Many: A Conversion Story 83

Rebecca F. Spurrier

Response: Or, Affective and Somatic Reading Field Notes; Or, Prefatory Exhortations on How to Read this Special Issue on Theological Ethnography and Genre 99

Kyle B. T. Lambelet

VOLUME 11, NO. 2

EDITORIAL

Editorial 105

Hans Schaeffer and Andrew Kinsey

ARTICLES

Evolving Liturgy and Enduring Hybridity 107

Sarah Kathleen Johnson

Make space! Creating Church with Newcomers 128

Kirsten Donskov Felter, Berit Weigand Berg and Heine Lokjaer Hansen

Hartmut Rosa and the Megachurch Ministry of Robert H. Schuller 144

Gerardo Martí and Mark T. Mulder

What Does Empathy and Understanding Look Like Across Communication Divides? 164

Helena Cundill and Leon van Ommen

BOOK REVIEWS

Nancy R. Percy, The Toxic War on Masculinity: How Christianity Reconciles the Sexes 183

Shaun Joynt

Matthew Prevett, The Quest for Authority: An Ecclesiological Pursuit from a 'United' and 'Reformed' Perspective 187

Helen Cameron