

On the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the publication of the first volume of Felix Jacoby's seminal work Die Fragmente der Griechischen Historiker, Brill is pleased to invite you to the celebratory conference "The 'Fragments' of 'Greek Historians' – Jacoby and Beyond" in Leiden. The conference is meant to discuss some essential questions, issues, and challenges concerning the transition of Jacoby's work into the 'Digital Age'. In looking back and forth, new perspectives on Jacoby Online that have not been previously appreciated will be debated to advance the field beyond traditional approaches and the usual much-discussed issues. The conference is therefore an opportunity to stimulate a lively dialogue and interchange of ideas between the editors and all parties involved concerning the future of Jacoby Online.

The 'Fragments' of 'Greek Historians' – Jacoby and Beyond

7-8 September 2023 Leiden University (the Netherlands)

7 September

|                                     |                |  |
|-------------------------------------|----------------|--|
| 12.30                               |                | Opening of the conference registration desk  |
| 13.00                               | I. Sluiter     | Welcome address  |
| 13.15                               | Editors        | Introduction   |
| Section "From Jacoby to now" |                |  |
| 13.30                               | I. Worthington | 19 Years Later and Still Going: from FGrHist to BNJ to BNJ 2 to ..?  |
| 14.15-14.45                         | Break   |  |
| 14.45                               | C. Baron       | History at the 'Fringes' of the Greek World (and Beyond)   |
| 15.45                               | C. Bearzot     | Atthidography from F. Jacoby to the BNJ – Political Nature, Historiographical Reception, and More  |
| 16.45-17.15                         | Break   |  |
| 17.15                               | V. Bucciattini | 'Boundaries' of Fragmentary Ancient Geography: from Felix Jacoby's Idea in 1908 to Friedrich Gisinger's Studies and Current Trends in Research |
| 18.15                               | F. Montanari   | Scholars, Antiquarians, and Historians: an Ancient and Modern Problem  |

8 September

|                                       |                          |  |
|---------------------------------------|--------------------------|--|
| Section "The Future of Jacoby" |                          |  |
| 09.00                                 | S. SchornM. Depauw   | Quantifying FGrHist – Towards a Network of Authorial Quotes      |
| 10.00                                 | H.-J. GehrkeF. Maier | Short summary of day 1Presentation of the new online edition |
| 10.30-11.00                           | Break             |  |
| 11.00                                 | J. Marincola             | Jacoby and Beyond  |
| 12.00-13.30                           | Lunch Break       |  |
| 13.30-15.00                           | H.-J. Gehrke             | Open Forum: The Future of Jacoby                                 |

Location: University Library, Vossius Room, Witte Singel 27, Leiden

Registration: Please register via till.kappis@hist.uzh.ch