Instructions for Authors

Scope

Ancient Civilizations from Scythia to Siberia (ACSS) is an international journal covering such topics as history, archaeology, numismatics, epigraphy, papyrology and the history of material culture, as applied to the ancient world and relating to the territory of the former Soviet Union and neighbouring countries, as well as to research undertaken by scholars of the former Soviet Union abroad and to materials in collections in the former Soviet Union. Particular emphasis is given to the Black Sea area, Eurasian steppes, the Caucasus, Asia Minor, Siberia, Iran and Central Asia. Ancient Civilizations from Scythia to Siberia has already established itself as an invaluable resource for the subject both in the private collections of professors and scholars as well as in the major research libraries of the world. Ancient Civilizations from Scythia to Siberia offers you an easy way to stay on top of your discipline. Each volume contains, besides a selection of high-quality original papers, an abundance of figures for clarification of details.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behaviour for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill's publication ethics, which may be downloaded here: brill.com/page/ethics/publication-ethics-cope-compliance.

Submission

Manuscripts and copies of figures should be sent in duplicate to the Editors-in-Chief: Prof. Askold Ivantchik, "Ausonius," Maison d'archéologie, Université de Bordeaux 3, F-33607 Pessac, France, e-mail: ivantchik@u-bordeaux-montaigne.fr.

or to: BRILL, Editor Ancient Civilizations from Scythia to Siberia, P.O. Box 9000, 2300 PA Leiden, The Netherlands. Authors are requested to include their e-mail address.

Abbreviations

A separate list of abbreviations should be supplied, organized in alphabetical order of abbreviation. The titles of journals should not be abbreviated.

Example:

Sinopean amphorae of the Roman period belong to two production traditions, but they are all made of the same fabric.¹ The first tradition continued the development of the shape of the local Hellenistic amphorae. These are amphorae of late variant Sin Ic with conical “winding” toes (fig. 1, 1). The latest known vessels of this variant are dated to the mid- 1st century AD.² Possibly, these were the precursors of several varieties of Sinopean amphorae of the 2nd and 3rd centuries AD, which are described below.

Publication

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to the author by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned promptly.

E-Offprints

A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author's version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version without any embargo period. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright

By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access

Should the author wish to publish the article in Open Access he/she can choose the Brill Open option. This allows for non-exclusive Open Access publication under a Creative Commons license in exchange for an Article Publication Charge (APC), upon signing a special Brill Open Consent to Publish Form. More information on Brill Open can be found on brill.com/brillopen.
