Scope

Established in 1965, the Journal of Belarusian Studies (BELA) is the oldest English-language scholarly periodical on Belarusian studies in the world. It aims to promote interdisciplinary exchange between scholars in all major fields of Belarusian studies. The substantive focus of the peer-reviewed journal is on Belarusian society, particularly on societal and cultural change. The Journal invites submissions of articles and book reviews in all fields of Belarusian studies, including articles on Belarusian literature, linguistics, foreign relations, civil society, history and art, as well as book reviews. The journal is indexed by SCOPUS, EBSCO, ERIH PLUS, Google Scholar and other major databases.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behavior for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill's publication ethics, which may be downloaded here: brill.com/page/ethics/publication-ethics-cope-compliance.

Online Submission

BELA uses online submission only. Authors should submit their manuscript online via the Editorial Manager (EM) online submission system at: editorialmanager.com/bela. First-time users of EM need to register first. Go to the website and click on the "Register Now" link in the login menu. Enter the information requested. During registration, you can fill in your username and password. If you should forget this username and password, click on the "send login details" link in the login section, and enter your e-mail address exactly as you entered it when you registered. Your access codes will then be e-mailed to you. Prior to submission, authors are encouraged to read the 'Instructions for Authors'. When submitting via the website, you will be guided stepwise through the creation and uploading of the various files. A revised document is uploaded the same way as the initial submission. The system automatically generates an electronic (PDF) proof, which is then used for reviewing purposes. All correspondence, including the editor's request for revision and final decision, is sent by e-mail.

Double-blind Peer Review

BELA uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). When you submit your article, you will be asked to submit a separate title page that includes the full title of the manuscript, the names and complete contact details of all authors, abstract, keywords, and acknowledgement texts. This page will not be accessible to the referees. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymized.

Contact Address
For any questions or problems relating to your manuscript, please contact the Editor in Chief, Prof. Yaroslav Kryvoi, at: editor@belarusjournal.com. For questions about Editorial Manager, authors can also contact the Brill EM Support Department: em@brill.com.

Submission Requirements

Language
BELA publishes articles in English. Contributions should be grammatically correct and in good literary style. All spelling should be consistent.

Font
12-point Times New Roman that come with Microsoft Word, full justification, and 1.5 line-spacing. Paragraph indentation (use tab): 1.25 cm, except at the beginning of the article, and after new headings.

Unicode and Non-Roman Fonts
For extended characters, authors should ensure that they use a Unicode-friendly font such as the Brill (brill.com/about/brill-fonts).
If you have any questions about fonts or any other issue, please contact the editor.

Transliteration
Belarusian place names and personal names are to be transliterated by the system set out at:
(The Roman alphabet transliteration of Belarusian geographical names)
unstats.un.org/unsd/geoinfo/ungegn/docs/10th-uncsgn-docs/crp/E_CONF.101_CRP2_The%20Roman%20alphabet%20transliteration.pdf

Translating Cyrillic in Languages Other than Belarusian
For Russian use the Library of Congress system modified by omitting the ligatures over “ts,” “iu” and “ia,” removing the breve over the “i” for ї, and rendering the letter “ë” as “io.”
For Ukrainian: modifications are similar to those for Russian, with the addition of “yi” for й.

Length
BELA publishes peer-reviewed articles (between 5,500 and 11,000 words), and reviews (around 2,000 words, including references). In exceptional cases longer and shorter contributions may be considered.
Instructions for Authors

Manuscript Structure

Title Page
The title of the paper should be in 16-point Times New Roman, Bold, single line spacing below. The name(s) of the author(s) will appear at the beginning of the title page of each article under the manuscript title, using 12-point Times New Roman, double line spacing below (first name + any initials + surname). On that page, authors should provide a brief statement, giving details of their academic degree, institutional affiliation, position, and e-mail address. This information will appear in a special section of each issue of the journal.

Page Numbers
11-point Times New Roman, top aligned right.

Abstract and Keywords
All manuscripts should be accompanied by an abstract in English of no more than 150 words and a list of no more than six or seven keywords. Articles may also be accompanied by a summary in Belarusian (next to the obligatory English one). The abstract should precede the actual text of the article.

Headings
1 The First Level Heading
1.1 The Second Level Heading

Dates
Use the Day-Month format, e.g., 7 January 2022. Add (OS) if Old Style. BCE and CE should be used instead of BC and AD.

Footnotes
Footnotes should be numbered consecutively. Short citations from the bibliography can be given in the text or in the footnotes, in the form (Author 2022; Editors 2019). The complete bibliography is given in the References at the end of the paper.

Numerals
Spell out numerals from one to ninety-nine, and use figures for 100 and above (but keep “hundred”, “thousand”, “million” and “billion” as words if they appear as whole numbers, for example, “a thousand years ago”).

Last revised on 24 November 2021
Use figures in percentages: 26 per cent.
Use commas in numerals containing more than three digits to distinguish them from years: 1,914.

Quotation Marks
Use double curly quotation marks, with single curly quotes within where necessary. Commas and full stops should be placed within the quotation marks only at the end of a quotation that forms a complete sentence, e.g.: The press attaché reported that “Gorbachev simply replied ‘Enough!”

References
General
Clear, precise, and comprehensive citation is absolutely essential.
Capitalization of titles in both headline-style or sentence-style is allowed. Please follow the same capitalization style as in the original title.
Reverse italics in titles are permitted when applicable.
References should be given in an alphabetical list at the end of the article, 12-point Times New Roman, single spaced, aligned left.
The Reference List should be presented in Roman script. Use a transcribed version of the reference where necessary. The original script can be included within square brackets.
The list should be heading with the title References, italics, aligned left, double spaced above, single spaced below.
The items should be listed in ascending order of year of publication.
Do not use dashes for repeated author names.
Where there is more than one work by an author produced in the same year, use alphabetical letters attached to the end of publication, for example, 1999a, 1999b, 1999c. These letters also appear in the references. Such works should be listed alphabetically by the first word of the title (excluding the definite article
Letters with diacritics, for example, Ź,
Capitalization of titles in both headline-style or sentence-style is allowed. Please follow the same capitalization style as in the original title.

Abbreviations
Use a full stop only if the last letter is not the last letter of the word, for example:
“Dr,” “St,” “Vols,” but “Co.,” “P.,” “Vol.” Also note: “No.” and “Nos.” (both have full stops).
Do not use full stops in the names of institutions, countries, books, journals, academic degrees and so on: USA, CIS, USSR, UN, BBC, JBS, OED, Phd.
Use “For example” rather than e.g., “and so on,” rather than etc., and “that is” rather than “i.e.”.

Proofs
Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to authors by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process, only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned promptly.

E-offprints
A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author’s version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version without any embargo period. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright
By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose, the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access
Should the author wish to publish the article in Open Access he/she can choose the Brill Open option. This allows for non-exclusive Open Access publication under a Creative Commons license in exchange for an Article Publication Charge (APC), upon signing a special Brill Open Consent to Publish Form. More information on Brill Open can be found on brill.com/brillopen.
