

Scope

As a cross-disciplinary journal in the humanities and social sciences, Bandung: Journal of the Global South (BJGS) aims at providing an academic and policy platform for scholars and practitioners to develop new theoretical perspectives, share revealing findings, and exchange views. These should be grounded on the complex postcolonial landscapes of African, Asian, and Latin American peoples, for identifying their own ways and strategies of development and decolonization. Alternative paradigms, worldviews, ontologies, and epistemologies as well as praxis are encouraged to develop context-sensitive debates pertinent to African, Asian, and Latin American intellectual traditions and empirical, cultural, and theoretical realities.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

Please note that submission of an article for publication in any of Brill's journals implies that you have read and agreed to Brill's Ethical and Legal Conditions. The Ethical and Legal Conditions can be found here: brill.com/downloads/conditions.pdf.

Submission

Authors should submit their manuscript by e-mail, together with a cover letter in Microsoft Word files to the Editor-in-Chief, Pak Nung WONG at: p.wong@bath.ac.uk. A brief C.V. detailing the author's institutional affiliation, qualifications, professional experience and a list of publications may also be requested.

Double-blind Peer Review

BJGS uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are, and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s).

When you submit your article, you will be asked to submit a separate title page which includes the full title of the manuscript plus the names and complete contact details of all authors. This page will not be accessible to the referees. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymized.

File Format

Please submit source files in .doc, and not .pdf files.

Submission Requirements

Types of Contributions and Length

Research articles submitted to BJGS should be 8,000-10,000 words in length, all inclusive.

Where appropriate, tables, illustrations and figures as well as images in either color or black-and-white are welcome. The Editor-in-Chief will arrange for each submission to be anonymously refereed by at least two reviewers. To enhance its publications to be accessible to both policy-making and scientific circles, policy-makers and practitioners with relevant scientific background will be invited to serve as reviewers.

A review essay should be 4,000-7,000 words in length, all inclusive. By engaging with at least one new publications of book-length (usually research monograph or edited volume), it is intended to provide an update of the latest theoretical and empirical development of a field concerned. Normally, an editor commissions Review Essay to a scholar recommended by the Editorial Board. If however an author is interested in contributing a Review Essay, please get in touch with the Editor-in-Chief. Review Essay is considered a form of Research Article, which necessitates peer review by at least two reviewers.

Language

Manuscripts should be written in either British or American English. Spelling should be consistent throughout. The article title, abstract and keywords and the author name (if a name in another language is available, e.g. Arabic, Korean, Tamil and Thai) need to be provided in both English and another language. To facilitate international and trans-cultural communications, while BJGS only publishes articles in English language, other languages used in the Global South (e.g. Amharic, Bahasa Indonesia, Burmese, Farsi, French, Hindi, Sinhala and Spanish, etc.) are encouraged to be used for research and illustrations. A non-English abstract may be added after the English one.

Unicode

Authors should ensure that they use a Unicode friendly font such as the Brill (brill.com/about/brill-fonts). Please let us know in advance if you plan to use any special characters or fonts.

Manuscript Structure

General

Formatting should be kept to a minimum. Only use italics in your files to format the text which has to be typeset as italics. Indent paragraphs with one tab. Authors should include their home or institutional address, phone number and e-mail address on a separate sheet.

Times New Roman, 12-point, is the preferred font to use for the main text and quotations as well as the list of references. Times New Roman, 10-point should be used for the footnotes.

Instructions for Authors

Margins should be one inch all around. Single-space the main text and all quotations; footnotes should be single-spaced.

For most questions of style, we follow The Chicago Manual of Style.

The author's name, affiliation, email address and perhaps a biographical note (of not more than 80 words) should appear on a separate title page only. Each article should be in the sequence of the main title and subtitle, an abstract (maximally 250 words), 3-6 keywords, main text (divided into sections) and References Cited. Footnotes can be used. All illustrations (tables, figures and images) should be numbered, titled and included inside the main text.

Abstract and Keywords

Authors are requested to provide an abstract of 150 words or less at the beginning of the article, as well as up to 5 or 6 keywords. The abstract summarizes aim, result and conclusion of the research.

Do not provide an abstract for a review article/short note, or a book review.

Footnotes

Use footnotes, not endnotes.

References

Please provide a separate list of references at the end of your article. Please refer to The Chicago Manual of Style (chicagomanualofstyle.org). At the end of journal references, please insert the DOI number, whenever available.

Dates

17 June 2019, 100 B.C., 600 A.D., 1990s, etc.

Quotations

Use double quotation marks (") for a simple quotation. For a quotation within a quotation, use single quotation marks. A comma or a period (full stop) should be placed inside quotation marks in all situations. For texts longer than 3 lines, use a block quotation, indented half an inch from the left margin. In this case, no quotation marks are necessary at the beginning and end of the quotation.

Bibliography and Text Citation

Submissions should use author-date citation in the text (for example, Amin 2006: 93-94), and provide full citation in the List of References Cited as:

Amin, Samir (2006). Beyond U.S. Hegemony? Assessing the Prospects for a Multipolar World. (Translated by Patrick Camiller). Beirut, Lebanon: World Book Publishing.

Figures and Tables

All illustrations including figures and tables must be cited and shown consecutively inside the submitted manuscript.

After a manuscript is reviewed and accepted for publication, author may be asked by the production team to submit figures as separate source files in .eps, .tif, or .jpg format, in a size suitable for the typesetting area of the journal. The resolution of these files should be at least 300 dpi for half-tone figures, and 600 dpi for line drawings. Number all illustrations clearly, and indicate in the manuscript where they are to appear (Fig. 1 here). All captions are to be added on a separate sheet, at the end of the article.

The text in a figure must be legible, and should not be smaller than corps 7. The size of this lettering for any text in a figure should be the same for all figures in the manuscript.

Publication

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to the author by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned to the Editor.

Offprints

A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author's version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version after an embargo period of 24 months. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright

By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign
