Instructions for Authors

Scope

Caucasus Survey (CASU) is a peer-reviewed, multidisciplinary journal, publishing triannually and concerned with humanities research into the contemporary Caucasus – the independent states of Armenia, Azerbaijan and Georgia, and the North Caucasian republics and regions of the Russian Federation. Also covered are the de facto entities of Abkhazia, South Ossetia and Nagorny Karabakh; the autonomous republic of Kalmykia and southern regions of Russia neighbouring the Caucasus; Crimea; as well as selected issues relating to the Cossacks, the Meskhetian Turks, Nogais and Caucasian diasporas in Turkey, the Middle East and the Euro-Atlantic space. Caucasus Survey aims to advance an area studies tradition in the humanities and social sciences about and from the Caucasus, connecting this tradition with core disciplinary concerns in the fields of modern history, political science, anthropology, cultural and religious studies, political economy, human geography, conflict and peace studies, and sociology. Research covering Caucasus-related dimensions of Middle Eastern and European politics, society, culture and history also fall within the remit of the journal. Caucasus Survey publishes original research articles, review articles, policy discussions on strategic issues, interviews, biographical sketches, memoirs, archive documents, research notes, recent fieldwork narratives and book reviews.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behavior for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill's publication ethics, which may be downloaded here: brill.com/page/ethics/publication-ethics-cope-compliance.

Online Submission

CASU now uses online submission only. Authors should submit their manuscript online via the Editorial Manager (EM) online submission system at: editorialmanager.com/RCAU. First-time users of EM need to register first. Please go to the website and click on the “Register Now” link in the login menu, then enter the information requested. During registration, you can fill in your username and password. If you should forget your Username and Password, please click on the "send login details" link in the login section and enter your e-mail address exactly as you entered it when you registered. Your access codes will then be e-mailed to you. Authors are required to follow the guidelines of the “Instructions for Authors.” When submitting via the website, you will be guided step by step through the creation and uploading of the various files. A revised document is uploaded the same way as the initial submission. The system automatically generates an electronic (PDF) proof, which is then used for reviewing purposes. All correspondence, including the editor’s request for revision and final decision, is sent by e-mail. Authors should always retain a file copy of materials submitted.

Double-Blind Peer Review
CASU uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are, and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). When you submit your article via Editorial Manager, you will be asked to submit a separate title page that includes the full title of the manuscript, the names and complete contact details of all authors, the abstract, keywords, and any acknowledgement text. This page will not be accessible to the referees. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutional affiliations, or, as far as possible, any personal information that could be used to infer the identity of the author(s). The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymized.

File Format
Please upload source files such as .docx, and not .pdf files.

Contact Address
For any questions or problems relating to your manuscript please contact the Editor, Laurence Broers at: info@caucasus.survey.org. For eventual questions about Editorial Manager, authors can also contact the Brill EM Support Department at: em@brill.com. Please note that peer review processes take time. Caucasus Survey does not welcome the practice of sending regular demands for updates from editors about the status of manuscripts. Reminders resent within unreasonable timeframes will not be answered.

Submission Requirements

Language
Caucasus Survey is a predominantly English-language journal. Articles may also be published in Russian, although these should not exceed 10% of the journal’s output in one year. Publication in other languages may be considered on an ad hoc basis if related to the reproduction of an original source of specific interest to the journal.

Spelling
Anglicized: Commonly Known Titles
Transcription is used only when a title is part of a name or transcribed phrase, otherwise commonly used anglicized variants are preferred (amir, atabeg, caliph, khan, melik, pasha, sheikh, sultan, tsar).
Instructions for Authors

Transliteration
For non-Roman-based alphabets, the Library of Congress translation should be used for transliteration. Authors may use simplified systems omitting diacritical marks where the indication of the latter is not essential for the research findings to be understood.

Length
The typical length of research articles published in Caucasus Survey is 7,000-9,000 words. The maximum length is 10,000 words; authors wishing to exceed this limit must agree this in advance with the editors and make a convincing case to do so.

The typical length of policy discussions published in Caucasus Survey is 5,000-6,000 words, with a maximum of 7,000. Policy discussions should address issues or questions of mid- or long-term strategic significance, rather than short-term ‘issues of the moment’ that may not remain relevant after a publishing cycle of 3-4 months. Policy discussions are reviewed double-blind in the same way as research articles.

Other genres of article published in Caucasus Survey, such as interviews, field narratives or archive documents, must be negotiated in advance with the co-Editors-in-Chief, who will decide on the appropriate parameters and review process.

Instructions for Authors

Capitalization

Personal Titles
Personal titles should be written in upper case only when used with personal names: the president, but President Shevardnadze; king, but King Erekle II; prime minister, but Prime Minister Zhordania; sheikh, but Sheykh Mansur, etc.

Geographical Terms
Geographical terms are in upper case as part of topographical names: e.g., Aras River, Black Sea, Samegrelo Province, but the province of Samegrelo.

Dates and Numbers
Use common era (CE/BCE) dates, with Hejri dates following if desired (e.g., 1325/725) unless quoting an original source, in which case the date should be given as quoted with the common-era date in parentheses. Centuries are to be written in full, e.g. the nineteenth century, while numbers are used for decades, e.g. the 1460s. Dates should be written day-month-year without internal punctuation (e.g., 23 August 1514). Numbers up to one hundred are to be written in full, e.g. thirty-one soldiers, but 102 merchants and 4,131 peasants. Ranges (for pages, dates, etc.) should use the en-dash (–) and be contracted (e.g., 632–34, 1102–4, 1941–79).

Reference Style

Text Citations
Works should be cited briefly in parentheses within the text rather than in footnotes. Full references should be given in the bibliography at the end of the article. A citation within a text should normally include the author’s last name and the volume (if relevant) and page numbers, separated by commas, e.g.: (Browne, II, 45–47) or (Beckwith, 37). The year of publication is also given if more than one work of the same author is mentioned in the bibliography, but without a comma in between, e.g.: (Browne 1969, IV, 45) or (Treadwell 2003, 324–29).

Bibliography
The bibliography should be listed alphabetically by author surname and, for multiple entries by a single author, by publication date. If the bibliography contains two or more items by the same author, repeat the author’s surname for each entry. Titles should match exactly the original source, even when contradicting CASU transliteration. Likewise, authors’ names follow their preferred spelling in Latin characters.

Books
Author’s initials and last name (full name in the case of pre-twentieth-century authors: e.g., Abu Hāmed Mohammad Ghazāli, not A. H. M. Ghazāli), full title of the book (in italics), name(s) of the editor(s) (if any), the series (if any), number of volumes, edition (if applicable), and place and date of publication (n.p. and n.d. when the place or date of publication is not recorded):

Subtitles are set apart by one space following a colon:

Edited Chapter in Book

Author’s initials and last name, full title of the article (in quotation marks), in [name(s) of the book’s editor(s)], ed(s.), title of the book (in italics) and so on, the page numbers, and the DOI number (if available):

Journal Articles

Author’s initials and last name, full title of the article (in quotation marks), name of the journal (in italics) followed by the volume and issue numbers (in Arabic numerals) separated by a period, the date of publication in parentheses, page numbers, and the DOI number (if available):

Manuscripts

Author’s name (if known, otherwise, list under title), full title, archive (with location in parentheses), abbreviated collection name and archival number, and the manuscript date (if known, otherwise, n.d.):

Tağâreb al-omam fi akhbâr moluk al-ʿArab va-ʾl-ʿAjam, MS. Chester Beatty Library (Dublin), Per. 320, 1409/811.

Commonly abbreviated terms may be used only within parentheses in the body of the text: par. (paragraph), col. (column), p./pp. (page/pages), ed. (editor, edition), fol. (folio), n./nn. (note/notes), ch. (chapter), vol. (volume), etc.
English Transliteration of Titles in Russian, Armenian, Georgian, and Greek

English translation of titles in Russian, Armenian, Georgian, and Greek (and other languages) will be given in parentheses in Roman type. Only the initial letter and proper nouns are capitalized. When transliterating Georgian titles no capitals are used, and for the translation as above only the initial letter and proper nouns are capitalized.

Transcribed Titles of Books and Articles

Only proper nouns and the initial letter of books (except for Ar. al-) are capitalized in the transcribed titles of books and articles:

Figures

Whenever possible, please provide electronic files for any illustrations, maps or diagrams you wish to include in your article. In all other cases, the original image should be sent along with the final version of the article. All figures and tables must be cited consecutively in the text.

Figures should be submitted as separate source files in .eps, .tiff, or .jpg format, in a size suitable for the typesetting area of the journal. The resolution of these files should be at least 300 dpi (dots per inch) for half-tone figures (photographs), and 600 dpi for line drawings. Number the files and indicate in the manuscript where they are to appear (Fig. 1 here).

The text in a figure must be legible and should not be smaller than corps 7. The size of this lettering for any text in a figure should be the same for all figures in the manuscript. All figures should be clearly cross-referenced. File names or numbers should indicate clearly to which figure each caption belongs and to their place in the text. Credit lines and permissions should be included in the figure captions.

Tables

If you have prepared your own tables, please make sure they are inserted in the correct place within the running text. If you are using tables that have been copied or scanned from another publication, please follow the instructions for the electronic files as mentioned above. Also, please make sure all copyright permissions to re-use these tables have been cleared before submitting your article.

Publication

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to each author/the designated author by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly...

on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned promptly.

Offprints
A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author’s version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version without any embargo period. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher’s lay-out. The publisher’s lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright
By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access
Should the author wish to publish the article in Open Access he/she can choose the Brill Open option. This allows for non-exclusive Open Access publication under a Creative Commons license in exchange for an Article Publication Charge (APC), upon signing a special Brill Open Consent to Publish Form.
