Scope

Comparative Sociology (COSO) is an international scholarly journal, published in six issues per year, dedicated to advancing comparative sociological analyses of societies and cultures, institutions and organizations, groups and collectivities, networks and interactions. All submissions for articles are peer-reviewed double-blind. The journal publishes theoretical presentations, conceptual analyses, and empirical findings at all levels of comparative sociological analysis, from the world system to ethnomethodological and interactionist. In addition to full-length articles, the journal will consider research notes—short reports on specific topics of theoretical or empirical interest—and comments on previously published articles. Submissions are welcome not only from sociologists but also political scientists, legal scholars, economists, anthropologists and other social scientists. Indeed, the journal is particularly keen to receive works of comparative political sociology, comparative legal sociology, comparative economic sociology and comparative cultural sociology.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behavior for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill’s publication ethics, which may be downloaded here: brill.com/page/ethics/publication-ethics-cope-compliance.

Online Submission

Comparative Sociology uses online submission only. Authors should submit their manuscript online via the Editorial Manager (EM) online submission system at editorialmanager.com/compsoc. First-time users of EM need to register. Prior to submission, authors should first read the Instructions for Authors and the EM instructions available by following the above link and clicking on the ‘help’ icon in the top left-hand menu on the page. Online submission considerably shortens overall publication time. When submitting via the website, you will be guided stepwise through the creation and uploading of the various source files. Authors also have the opportunity to suggest reviewers to be used or avoided by submitting their names and contact details (including e-mail address). Various formats are allowed for submission, but source files such as word are preferred. The revised document is uploaded the same way as the initial submission. The system automatically generates an electronic (PDF) proof, which is then used for reviewing purposes. All correspondence, including the editor’s request for revision and final decision, is sent by e-mail.
Double-blind Peer Review

COSO uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know the names of the reviewers, and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). When you submit your article via Editorial Manager, you will be asked to submit a separate title page that includes the full title of the manuscript, the names and complete contact details of all authors, the abstract, keywords, and any acknowledgement texts. This page will not be accessible to the referees. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymized.

Contact Address

For any questions or problems relating to your manuscript please contact the Editor, David Weakliem (david.weakliem@uconn.edu). For eventual questions about Editorial Manager, authors can also contact the Brill EM Support Department at: em@brill.com.

Submission Requirements

General

Use Times New Roman, 12 point font, double spaced, with wide margins. Paginate the manuscript throughout. Submissions should use as little formatting as possible. Authors should upload a title page, an anonymized manuscript file, and any eventual figure or table files. The title pages should include the author(s) name(s), article title, and for each author(s): affiliations and complete mailing addresses, e-mail addresses and telephone numbers. Also include any acknowledgements here. References, bibliography and other matters of style should follow the ASA Style Guide (online at: asanet.org/journals/asr/american_sociological_review.cfm), and The Chicago Manual of Style, 16th ed. (Chicago: University of Chicago Press 2010; also available online at: chicagomanualofstyle.org/contents.html).

Language

Manuscripts should be written in English. Spelling (American) should be consistent throughout.

Length

The typical article submission, including all substantive footnotes, is 8,000 words, but Comparative Sociology will review submissions of up to 12,000 words; the bibliography is counted separately in each case, allowing additional words to the totals above. Research notes or comments should be no more than 4,000 words.

Footnotes
Use footnotes (not endnotes) for necessary substantive observations.

Text Citations
Citations in the text should be given in the form, Surname (2014) or (Surname 2014). For two authors include all surnames (Surname and Surname 2014). For three authors, cite all names the first time, and then use (Surname et al. 2014). For four or more authors use (Surname et al. 2014) throughout. Tables and Figures
All figures and tables must be cited consecutively in the text. Tables and illustrations should be placed on separate pages, numbered consecutively and given captions (tables) and legends (illustrations). Footnotes for tables appear at the bottom of the tables. Indicate the appropriate place for inserting tables and illustrations in the text, e.g., “TABLE 1 HERE.”

The resolution of these files should be at least 300 dpi for half-tone figures, and 600 dpi for line drawings. Number the files, and indicate in the manuscript where they are to appear (Fig. 1 here). Proofs
Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to authors by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned promptly.

E-offprints
A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author's version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version without any embargo period. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website.
