

Instructions for Authors

Scope

Comparative Political Theory (CPT) aims to become the premier academic journal dedicated to fostering dialogue among intellectual traditions from across the globe to address vexing social and political problems. The academic discipline of political theory largely formed in English-speaking countries in the twentieth century. Political theorists such as John Rawls, Leo Strauss, Isaiah Berlin, and Hannah Arendt, as well as the main authors that they read, became the canon. Political theorists sometimes read authors from China, India, Russia, Mexico, Ghana, Turkey, and elsewhere, but the discipline has been Euro-American-centric. This journal aims to address this imbalance. One way is to publish work on important authors, texts, arguments, schools, and traditions from around the world. A second way is to publish work that fosters conversations between social and political theorists within and outside of the West. In both cases, authors should explain how the work addresses pressing global problems. Comparative Political Theory welcomes submissions from around the world that use diverse methodologies, that situate their arguments in different traditions, that can be more theoretical or more empirical, and so forth. The main objective is to shed new light on social and political affairs.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behavior for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill's publication ethics, which may be downloaded here: brill.com/page/ethics/publication-ethics-cope-compliance.

Online Submission

Comparative Political Theory uses online submission only. Authors should submit their manuscript online via the Editorial Manager (EM) online submission system at: editorialmanager.com/cpt.

First-time users of EM need to register first. Go to the website and click on the "Register Now" link in the login menu. Enter the information requested. During registration, you can fill in your username and password. If you should forget your Username and Password, click on the "send login details" link in the login section, and enter your e-mail address exactly as you entered it when you registered. Your access codes will then be e-mailed to you.

Prior to submission, authors are encouraged to read the "Instructions for Authors." When submitting via the website, you will be guided stepwise through the creation and uploading of the various files. A revised document is uploaded the same way as the initial submission. The system automatically generates an electronic (PDF) proof, which is then used for reviewing purposes. All correspondence, including the editor's request for revision and final decision, is sent by e-mail.

Double-blind Peer Review

Comparative Political Theory uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). When you submit your article via Editorial Manager, you will be asked to submit a separate title page that includes the full title of the manuscript, the names and complete contact details of all authors, the abstract, keywords, and any acknowledgement texts. This page will not be accessible to the referees. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymized.

Contact Address

For questions relating to your manuscript, please contact the Editors-in-Chief, Takamichi Sakurai and Nicholas Tampio, at: comparativept@gmail.com. For questions about Editorial Manager, authors can also contact the Brill EM Support Department: em@brill.com.

Submission Requirements

Language

Comparative Political Theory publishes articles in American English. Contributions should be grammatically correct and in good literary style. All spelling should be consistent.

Font

Ordinary Roman style text Arial and Times New Roman that come with Microsoft Windows are fine. For extended characters, authors should ensure that they use a Unicode friendly font such as the Brill (brill.com/about/brill-fonts).

Unicode and Non-Roman Fonts

The Editors request the use of Unicode-friendly fonts such as the Brill (brill.com/page/BrillFont/brill-typeface).

If you have any questions about fonts or any other issue, please contact the editor.

References

Footnotes may be used for supplemental information, but references should be given as in-text citations following APA style, with a list of references (labeled “References”) at the end of the article. A list of references is required for all contributions. For guidance on in-text citation according to APA style, you may visit owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/02/ or apastyle.apa.org/style-grammar-guidelines/citations or any number of other resources on the internet.

For the References section:

- Do not use dashes for repeated author names.
- Capitalization of titles in both headline-style or sentence-style is allowed. Please follow the same capitalization style as in the original title.
- Reverse italics in titles are permitted when applicable.
- The Reference List should be presented in roman script. Use a transcribed version of the reference where necessary. The original script can be included within square brackets.
- For types of references not listed below, you may consult owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/02/.

Publication

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to authors by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process, only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned promptly.

Instructions for Authors

E-offprints

A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author's version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) without an embargo period. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright

By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose, the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish form which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access

Should the author wish to publish the article in Open Access, he/she can choose the Brill Open option. This allows for non-exclusive Open Access publication under a Creative Commons license in exchange for an Article Publication Charge (APC), upon signing a special Brill Open Consent to Publish form. More information on Brill Open can be found on brill.com/brillopen.
