

Scope

East Central Europe (ECEU) is a peer-reviewed journal of social sciences and humanities with a focus on the region between the Baltic and the Adriatic, published in cooperation with the Central European University. The journal seeks to maintain the heuristic value of regional frameworks of interpretation as models of historical explanation, transcending the nation-state at sub-national or trans-national level, and to link them to global academic debates. East Central Europe has an interdisciplinary orientation, combining area studies with history and social sciences, most importantly political science, sociology, anthropology, and cultural studies. It aims to stimulate the dialogue and exchange between scholarship produced in and on East-Central Europe and other area study traditions, in a global context. East Central Europe is made in close cooperation with Pasts, Inc. in Central European University (www.ceu.hu/pasts).

Ethical and Legal Conditions

The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behavior for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill's publication ethics, which may be downloaded here: brill.com/page/ethics/publication-ethics-cope-compliance

Submission

Contributions to the journal should be sent to the Editor-in-Chief by e-mail or on CD by post:

<East Central Europe> Pasts, Inc.,
History Department, Central European University,
Nador utca 11,
Budapest V,
Hungary 1051.
E-mail: ECE@CEU.HU.

File Format

In any word processor: save and send the file in RTF or Word .doc format. Use a Unicode friendly font, preferably the Brill (brill.com/about/brill-fonts). If you need to use other fonts, always send them along with the text file. The file name should include the author's name and an abbreviated title.

Keep formatting to an absolute minimum. Use italics only in your files to format the text which has to be typeset as italics. Indent paragraphs with a single tab.

Submission Requirements

General

Submitted manuscripts should be double-spaced (including footnotes, which should appear at the bottom of the page). Articles should be complete, including all necessary footnotes, bibliographical references, tables, et cetera.

For questions concerning editorial style, consult The Chicago Manual of Style, 16th ed. (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2010). It contains numerous sample entries for both notes and bibliography, and authors are encouraged to consult them. Where appropriate, the author may follow a style that is specific to his or her discipline, provided the style is used consistently.

Language

Manuscripts should be written in English, French or German. Spelling in the language used should be consistent throughout. The preferred form in English is American English, unless the author is a native speaker of British English. American and British spelling should not be mixed. Where both -ise and -ize spellings are possible, the latter should be used, e.g. in “standardize”, “italicize”, “realize”; but note that exercise, circumscribe, compromise and many other words must be spelled with -ise. For questions concerning spelling, hyphenation, and punctuation, consult Webster’s Third New International Dictionary and Merriam-Webster’s Collegiate Dictionary, 11th ed. The text must be grammatically correct and in good literary style.

Non-Roman Scripts and Unicode Fonts

For transliteration of Cyrillic text we prefer the Library of Congress Transliteration System loc.gov/catdir/cpsd/roman.html.

Use of Cyrillic and Greek quotations is allowed. In non-English texts, diacritical marks should be used as appropriate (e.g. in German, umlauts should always be used where required, rather than spelling with an extra ‘e’; however, the Ringel-ß may be rendered by “ss”). Capitalized letters in French should not be accented.

Using Unicode fonts will reduce the risk of error in typesetting non-Roman text or diacritics. For more information on fonts and Unicode, see:

brill.com/fileasset/downloads_static/static_fonts_metricalunicode.pdf; for more details on how to handle special scripts and transliteration, see: brill.com/page/fonts/fonts-scripts-and-unicode

Length

Articles should consist of 7,500-10,000 words (book reviews: 1,000-2,000 words, review essays 2,500-4,000 words).

Manuscript Structure

Affiliation

Please provide a full affiliation, including place name and country, even if this seems obvious. We accept multiple affiliations:

Author Name

Professor, Humanities Faculty, Slavic Studies, University of Leiden, Leiden, The Netherlands

Lecturer in Belarusian Studies, Aerospace Institute, St Petersburg, Russia

email@uni.nl

Abstract and Keywords

Submissions must include an abstract of max. 150 words. The abstract should appear after the author's name and affiliation on the first article page. Four to eight keywords should be provided and placed below the abstract. Both abstract and keywords should be supplied in English, regardless of the language in which the article is written.

Headings

All headings should be aligned flush left and unnumbered.

Footnotes

Notes will be typeset as footnotes rather than endnotes. They should be numbered consecutively (using Arabic rather than Roman numerals), double-spaced, and in the same font size as the main text. A note number may be used only once: sub-numbering of notes (e.g. note 30a) is not acceptable. Authors should eliminate lengthy discursive notes either by omitting the material or by working it into the narrative body of the text.

Bibliographic References

All bibliographic references should be listed in a separate bibliography at the end of the article. For detailed examples of references in ECEU style, see below. In-text citations of these references should follow the following format:

1 author: Venturi 1971, 134.

2 authors: Berend and Ránki 2002, 19.

3+ authors: Berend et al. 2003, 313.

Translation of Titles into English

Directly following foreign titles (except for German and French) in your bibliography, please insert an English translation in parentheses [] (no quotes, no underlining, and only the first word and proper names capitalized):

Aleksandr Vladimirovich Lipatov, "Prosveshchenie: Antinomii i edinstvo epokhi" [The Enlightenment: antinomies and the unity of the epoch]. Slavianovedenie, 1 (1995), 40-49.

The name of the publisher should be that of the original imprint and date of publication (the names of some publishers have undergone changes over the years). Publishers' names must be completely spelled out. If the city of publication is not widely known, the abbreviation of the state name should follow it. For example: Englewood Cliffs, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, 1975. The state of publication should be abbreviated in the following manner: N.Y., not NY; Conn., not CT; Mass., not MA.

The names of the internationally known cities in the region will be referred to by their English name: Vienna, Prague, etc. Given that localities in this region have had different names over the centuries and sometimes 2 or 3 names concomitantly, the author is advised to explain in a footnote his choice of name and to follow his choice throughout the paper. Internationally renowned characters will be referred to by their English name: Pope John Paul II, William II, etc. Historical actors of less international fame will keep their original name.

Quotations

If they are brief (5 lines or fewer), quotations should be run on with the text, using double quotation marks (" "). Longer quotations should be indented, without quotation marks. All indented quotations should be typed double-spaced.

Instructions for Authors

Figures

All figures must be cited consecutively in the text. Figures should be submitted as separate source files in .eps, .tif, or .jpg format, in a size suitable for the typesetting area of the journal. The resolution of these files should be at least 300 dpi for half-tone figures, and 600 dpi for line drawings. Number the files and clearly mark the spot where the photo should be inserted (“insert ill. 2”). Photocopies or scans from books are not acceptable, since they will reproduce very poorly. For art images, captions should include the artist’s name (if relevant/known), title and/or description of the artwork, year of the artwork, year or time period (if known), medium, size, and archival location.

Figure Captions

Provide a list of captions for all illustrations and photographs at the very end of the article, typed double spaced. Identify the illustration by its number, describe it with a concise caption (include the location and date, if relevant/known), cite the full source, and acknowledge credit (permission granted). For art images, captions should include the artist’s name (if relevant/known), title and/or description of the artwork, year of the artwork, year or time period (if known), medium, size, and archival location.

Tables

Tables should be numbered and identified by number and by title. (For example: Table 3 Agricultural Production, 1935-1945.) Where necessary, include source and/or credit.

List of Contributors

In the back matter of the journal, we will provide a list of the contributors’ names and institutional affiliations. Please attach this description to your article, following the model: Eric Davis is Associate Professor of Political Science at Rutgers University.

Publication

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to authors by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned within promptly.

E-offprints

A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author's version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version after an embargo period of 12 months. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright

By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access

Should the author wish to publish the article in Open Access he/she can choose the Brill Open option. This allows for non-exclusive Open Access publication under a Creative Commons license in exchange for an Article Publication Charge (APC), upon signing a special Brill Open Consent to Publish Form. More information on Brill Open can be found on brill.com/brillopen.
