

Scope

The Journal of International Humanitarian Legal Studies (IHLS) is a peer reviewed journal aimed at promoting the rule of law in humanitarian emergency situations and, in particular, the protection and assistance afforded to persons in the event of armed conflicts and natural disasters in all phases and facets under international law. The Journal welcomes submissions in the areas of international humanitarian law, international human rights law, international refugee law and international law relating to disaster response. In addition, other areas of law can be identified including, but not limited to the norms regulating the prevention of humanitarian emergency situations, the law concerning internally displaced persons, arms control and disarmament law, legal issues relating to human security, and the implementation and enforcement of humanitarian norms. The Journal's objective is to further the understanding of these legal areas in their own right as well as in their interplay. The Journal encourages writing beyond the theoretical level taking into account the practical implications from the perspective of those who are or may be affected by humanitarian emergency situations. The Journal aims at and seeks the perspective of academics, government and organisation officials, military lawyers, practitioners working in the humanitarian (legal) field, as well as students and other individuals interested therein.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

Please note that submission of an article for publication in any of Brill's journals implies that you have read and agreed to Brill's Ethical and Legal Conditions. The Ethical and Legal Conditions can be found here: brill.com/downloads/conditions.pdf.

You are required to declare any competing interests, including any personal involvement or direct financial interest in a case or other matter being discussed. You are also required to disclose any financial support related to the manuscript.

Online Submission

The Journal only accepts online submissions. Authors should submit your manuscript via the Editorial Manager (EM) online submission system at editorialmanager.com/ihls.

First-time users of EM need to register first. Go to the website and click on the 'Register Now' link in the login section. Enter the information requested, including a preferred username and password. If you forget your username and password, click on the 'Send Login Details' link in the login section, and enter the e-mail address that you used when registering. Your username and a link to create a new password will then be e-mailed to you.

Prior to submission, you are encouraged to read these 'Instructions for Authors'. When submitting via the website, you will be guided stepwise through the creation and uploading of the various files. A revised document is uploaded the same way as the initial submission. The system automatically generates an electronic (PDF) proof, which is then used for reviewing purposes. All correspondence, including the editors' request for revision and final decision, is sent by e-mail.

Double-blinded Peer Review

The Journal uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that a manuscript's author(s) do not know who the reviewers are, and the reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). When you submit your article via EM, you will be asked to submit a separate title page which includes the full title of the manuscript as well as the names and complete contact details of all authors. This page will not be accessible to the referees. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information identifying the author(s), their institutions, etc. The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymised.

File Format

Please upload manuscript files in Microsoft Word format (.doc, .docx) or Rich Text Format (.rtf) and follow the Journal's points of style and rules of citation, found below.

Contact Addresses

For enquiries relating to the submission of articles and notes, as well as concerning the Journal more generally, please contact the Editors-in-Chief at editors@jihls.net.

For enquiries relating to book reviews and book review essays, please contact the Reviews Editor at reviews@jihls.net.

For questions about EM, please contact Brill's EM Support Department at em@brill.com.

Revisions

If the editors believe a manuscript accepted for publication needs minor revisions – including minor shortening, correction of errors in punctuation, spelling and style – such changes may be made by the editors. Manuscripts will not be sent back to you for review if the changes do not alter the meaning or sense of the original text, although you retain the ability to make minor corrections to the proofs.

Resubmission

You may be requested to resubmit a manuscript. (Re)submission of a manuscript does not automatically guarantee publication.

Submissions Originally Published in Another Language

If you wish to have a manuscript previously published in a foreign language considered by the Journal for first publication in English translation, you should state so at the time of submission. You may be asked to provide the relevant approval by the copyright holder, who may be the original publisher.

Timeliness

The Journal is committed to processing submissions as quickly as possible. The editors will normally make a decision as to whether to send a paper to referees within two weeks. Referees will be asked to report within four weeks. However, the time before a final decision can be made will depend on the availability of referees and the nature of their feedback. The editors aim to give a final decision within two months and, whenever possible, to give reasons if they do not accept a paper.

Submission Requirements

Language

Manuscripts should be written in English. Spelling (American or British) should be consistent throughout. The Oxford English Dictionary, the New Oxford American Dictionary and the Macquarie Dictionary are acceptable sources for spelling.

Quotations may appear in a language other than English if there is no authentic text or official translation. Such quotations should be accompanied by a translation into English.

Gender-inclusive language should be used whenever possible. For example, use 'person' or 'human' rather than 'man' where appropriate. Use 'he or she' if needed, but consider plural where possible (for example, 'children receive their education' instead of 'a child receives his or her education').

Alternatively, the use of 'they' and 'their' as singular pronouns is acceptable (for example, 'a child receives their education').

Length

The Journal publishes two main categories of papers: articles (8,000–10,000 words) and notes (approximately 4,000 words). The Journal also publishes book reviews (500–1,500 words) and book review essays (2,000–4,000 words).

Manuscript Structure

Files

To facilitate double-blind peer review, each submission should consist of two separate documents: a title page and an anonymised manuscript.

The title page document should contain the following:

- the title of the paper;
- the names, affiliations, contact details and, where available, ORCID identifiers, of all authors;
- any acknowledgements and/or disclaimers;
- a declaration of any competing interests that are not apparent from affiliations or acknowledgments.

Instructions for Authors

The anonymised manuscript document should contain the following:

- the title of the paper;
- an abstract of no more than 200 words;
- between 5 and 10 keywords;
- the manuscript text.

The anonymised manuscript document should not contain any of the authors' names, affiliations, contact details or acknowledgements, or language that would clearly identify the authors (for example, 'as I have argued elsewhere ...').

Headings and Subheadings

The use of headings and subheadings is encouraged. Capitalise all significant words in headings. Distinguish headings clearly from the main text and number them as follows:

1 Top Level Heading

1.1 First Level Subheading

1.1.1 Second Level Subheading

Paragraphs

Separate paragraphs clearly from each other. Do not indent the beginning of the paragraphs.

Style

For general matters of style, refer to New Hart's Rules or the New Oxford Style Manual. Note, in particular, the following:

- Use single, rather than double, inverted commas for short quotations in the main text. Use double inverted commas for quotations within quotations. Indent longer quotations without inverted commas. Place punctuation outside the closing quotation mark when the sentence is incomplete; otherwise, where the full stop belongs to the quotation, place it inside.
- Introduce acronyms on first appearance – for example, International Military Tribunal at Nuremberg (IMT). Do not use full stops in acronyms – UN, US, WHO, ECHR, OCHA, ILC.
- Use italics for short foreign phrases or individual words (Cour de Cassation, lex specialis), names of cases (Nicaragua judgment, Prosecutor v Tadić), and the titles of books and periodicals (Routledge Handbook of the Law of Armed Conflict, Journal of International Humanitarian Legal Studies). Do not italicise the titles of legal instruments.
- Use italics for words or phrases that you wish to emphasise. When adding an emphasis in a quoted passage, indicate that in the corresponding footnote with (emphasis added).
- Capitalise all significant words in titles of legal instruments, books and articles (Additional Protocol I, Oxford Handbook of International Law in Armed Conflict), and when referring to specific rules, acts, organs and office-holders (Common Article 3, the Rome Statute, Security Council Resolution 1455, Appeals Chamber of the ICTY, Special Adviser of the Secretary-General on the Prevention of Genocide). Capitalise the word 'State' when referring to a sovereign State.

- Write dates as follows: 1 January 2011, 1992–1997, 1970s.

Footnotes

Use footnotes primarily for references; avoid discursive footnotes.

References

Provide all references in the footnotes and format them according to the Oxford Standard for the Citation of Legal Authorities \(OSCOLA\) and its complementary Citing International Law Sources Section. Format any citation for a source not covered by OSCOLA as you see fit and highlight it for the benefit of the editors.

Figures

All figures are published in greyscale, not in colour. Please supply all figures in black and white. Figures should be of high quality. For photographs, a minimum resolution of 300 dpi is required; for linework, we require a minimum resolution of 600 dpi at the dimensions at which the image is to be reproduced. The image itself should be clear and legible. Each figure should have a caption; credit lines and permissions should be included in the figure captions.

Publication

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to authors by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned promptly.

Advance Access

Articles are published online as soon as possible after they have been accepted for publication, in advance of their appearance in a printed issue of the Journal. Such Advance Access versions of articles can be cited by a unique Digital Object Identifier \(DOI\). When an article appears in an issue of the Journal, it is removed from the Advance Access page.

E-offprints

A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author's version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version after an embargo period of 24 months. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright

By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access

Should the author wish to publish the article in Open Access he/she can choose the Brill Open option. This allows for non-exclusive Open Access publication under a Creative Commons license in exchange for an Article Publication Charge (APC), upon signing a special Brill Open Consent to Publish Form. More information on Brill Open can be found on brill.com/brillopen.
