Scope

The International Organizations Law Review (IOLR) is a peer-reviewed journal that only publishes articles that have passed through an anonymous review process. After the Second World War, the law of international organizations developed as a separate, but not separable, discipline within the sphere of public international law. The International Organizations Law Review functions as a discussion forum for both academics and practitioners active in this discipline. The Review offers two foci: one based in the world of scholarship and the other in the world of practice. Academic scholarship offered in the Review will focus on general and theoretical developments in international institutional law, while practitioner views offer a forum to identify and discuss legal developments within existing international organizations.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behaviour for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill’s publication ethics, which may be downloaded here: brill.com/page/ethics/publication-ethics-cope-compliance.

Online Submission

IOLR uses online submission only. Authors should submit their manuscript online via the Editorial Manager (EM) online submission system at: editorialmanager.com/iolr. First-time users of EM need to register first. Go to the website and click on the "Register Now" link in the login menu. Enter the information requested. During registration, you can fill in your username and password. If you should forget this username and password, click on the "send login details" link in the login section, and enter your e-mail address exactly as you entered it when you registered. Your access codes will then be e-mailed to you.

Prior to submission, authors are encouraged to read the “Instructions for Authors”. When submitting via the website, you will be guided stepwise through the creation and uploading of the various files. A revised document is uploaded the same way as the initial submission. The system automatically generates an electronic (PDF) proof, which is then used for reviewing purposes. All correspondence, including the editor's request for revision and final decision, is sent by e-mail.

Double-blind Peer Review

IOLR uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are, and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). When you submit your article via Editorial Manager, you will be asked to submit a separate title page that includes the full title.
Instructions for Authors

of the manuscript, the names and complete contact details of all authors, the abstract, keywords, and any acknowledgement texts. This page will not be accessible to the referees. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymized.

File Format
Please upload source files such as .doc, and not .pdf files.

Contact Address
For any questions or problems relating to your manuscript please contact: iolawreview@gmail.com. For eventual questions about Editorial Manager, authors can also contact the Brill EM Support Department at: em@brill.com.

Submission Requirements

Language
Manuscripts should be written in British English. Spelling should be consistent throughout, and the preferred reference source is the Oxford English Dictionary.

Manuscript Structure

- The preferred font and size for text and footnotes are Times New Roman 12 pt and Times New Roman 10 pt, respectively. Do not use bold or underline formats to emphasise a word or sentence. Words should only be emphasised using italics, sparingly.
- Articles must be typed, double-spaced or 1.5 lines throughout with wide margins. One space after each punctuation mark is sufficient; after a full stop (.) there should only be one space.
- When beginning a new section the first paragraph should not be indented, however, subsequent paragraphs should be indented.
- Do not make reference within the text to other parts of the text using page numbers. Use section headings, numbers/letters, or a prose description of the part of the text you wish to refer to.

Title Page
Authors should submit a separate title page with the title of the manuscript, the author(s)' name(s) and affiliation(s), an abstract and keywords, and the text of the paper.
The author’s current and/or main affiliation should be given under the author’s name:
Professor of X, D, University of X, City 111101, USA; e-mail: name@site.edu.
A full address is optional, an e-mail address mandatory.
Instructions for Authors

Authors should place an asterisked footnote after their name, and provide a short biography, of 200 words or less on the first page.

Anonymized Manuscript
The manuscript begins with the title of the manuscript, followed by the abstract and keywords.

Abstract and Keywords
Authors should provide an abstract of 100-150 words, and 3-8 keywords.

Headings
Use initial capitals for all words except prepositions and articles, and all words that contain five letters or more: Disputes between an Employer and an Employee.
Headings should follow the following format:

1  Formal Requirements for the Prompt Release of Vessels and Crews
1.1  Introduction
1.2  Information and Consultation
1.3  The Proceedings
1.3.1  Nature of the Proceedings
1.3.2  Preliminary Proceedings
1.3.2.1  Abuse of Rights
1.3.2.2  Local Remedies

Italics
– Only italics are used for emphasis, do not use bold or underline.
– Italics should be used sparingly. If used too often the emphasis will be weakened.
– Foreign and Latin words should be italicised.
– All case names should be italicised. However, the word case and the v. should not be italicised: Hermes v. FHT Marketing case.

Dates and Time
– For dates including day, month and year us: 1 January 2003.
– If only month and year are included use: January 2003.
– If only month and day are included use: 1 January.
– Years should be separated by an n-dash: 1980–1986

Monetary Amounts
– Do not use dollar signs; use USD (US dollars), SEK (Swedish Kronor), EUR (Euro), etc.
Instructions for Authors

- Place the abbreviation directly before the amount it refers to: USD 100.

Numbers
- Spell out numbers from one to ten (except in pages, legislation, dates and other similar references)
- Use numerals for numbers 11 and higher.
- Also use numerals throughout for dates and times.
- For percentages spell out the word per cent. For example, eight per cent, not 8%.
- Spell out fractions. For example, two-thirds or three-quarters.

Quotations
- Short direct quotations should be enclosed in double quotation marks (“ ”) and run on in the text.
- Single quotation marks (‘ ') are used to distinguish words, concepts or short phrases under discussion.
- Quotation marks should come before all punctuation, except in cases where the entire sentence is a quotation, e.g.: He said: “I agree with you”. “Don’t do it.”
- Where the quoted material begins with a capital but is being placed in the middle of a sentence and the letter should grammatically be lower case, place the letter in square brackets and change to lower case:
  As explicitly stated in Article 20 “[a]ny propaganda for war shall be prohibited by law”.
- Omission points
  o Use to designate that the quoted material has omitted information (usually only in a sentence).
  o Should be styled as three spaced points (full stops), with a space before the first point and a space after the last point.
  o When used within quotations, omit all punctuation (including full stops) immediately prior to the omission points.
  o It is unnecessary to include omission points at the beginning of a quote if the first letter of the quoted material is in lower case. The lower case letter denotes that the quote comes from the middle of a sentence.
    Article 6 also states that the right to life “shall be protected by law”.
    Article 50 states that the “…Covenant shall extend to all parts of federal states without any limitations or exceptions”.

Block Quotes
- For larger sections of quoted text (i.e., anything over four lines) use block quotes.
- Set these off from other text by adding a blank line above and below the section, and indent the block of text on the left and right by five points.
- These larger sections, or ‘block quotes’, should be enclosed in quotation marks.
Footnotes and References
The journal uses footnotes, not endnotes or a bibliography. References should adhere to the specifications below in accordance with the publisher’s requirements. Any omissions will be returned to the author for completion. Please adhere to the following:
- Footnotes should be in Times New Roman 10 pt.
- All footnotes should end with a full stop.
- When in doubt, provide all information – it is easier and faster to cut than to hunt down minutiae.
- If there is only one footnote in a sentence the footnote should follow all punctuation. However, when there is more than one footnote the footnotes should be placed after the idea, quote, article, etc, except for the last footnote, which should follow all punctuation.

  Article 6 can be said to predate the Covenant by many years.\textsuperscript{12}

  Both case law\textsuperscript{13} and customary practice illustrate this point.\textsuperscript{14}
- The abbreviation(s) should be followed by a full stop, then a space and finally the page(s) or paragraph(s) referred to. Page ranges should be separated by an en dash: pp. 26–46.
  The following abbreviations should be used:
  \begin{itemize}
  \item pp. = pages
  \item p. = page.
  \item para. = paragraph
  \item paras. = paragraphs
  \end{itemize}
- \textit{et seq.} is preferred to \textit{ff.}
- All signals should be italicised in footnotes. Signals (for example: \textit{see, see also, Cf., but see, etc.}) should not be separated from the rest of the citation by a comma, except for \textit{e.g.}:
  \begin{itemize}
  \item See also Rispoli v. Italy, 30 October 2003 . . .
  \end{itemize}

References and Cross References (Supra Note and \textit{Ibid}.)
- When referring to a previously cited work use the following format: authors surname, supra note . . . and give the number of the footnote in which the work was first cited:
  Bogdan, supra note 8.
  When referring to a previously cited work but referring to a different page than what was originally cited indicate the page referred to: Crawford, supra note 8, p. 25.
- When referring to a work cited \textit{immediately above} the citation in question, and referring to the same page, use the following: \textit{Ibid}. Remember: use \textit{ibid}. only for immediately preceding references, otherwise, use \textit{supra} note.
- In cases such as no. 3 above, but referring to a different page or paragraph number indicate the page referred to: \textit{Ibid.}, p. 4.
Journal Articles
At the end of journal references, please also insert the DOI number, whenever available.

Publication

Proofs
Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to each author by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned promptly.

E-offprints
A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author's version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version without any embargo period. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright
By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.
