Scope

The early modern period of world history (ca. 1300-1800) was marked by a rapidly increasing level of global interaction. Between the aftermath of Mongol conquest in the East and the onset of industrialization in the West, a framework was established for new kinds of contacts and collective self-definition across an unprecedented range of human and physical geographies. The Journal of Early Modern History (JEMH), the official journal of the University of Minnesota Center for Early Modern History, is the first scholarly journal dedicated to the study of early modernity from this world-historical perspective, whether through explicitly comparative studies, or by the grouping of studies around a given thematic, chronological, or geographic frame. JEMH invites submissions both of individual articles and of proposals for special editions (which may appear up to twice a year).

Ethical and Legal Conditions

The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behavior for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill's publication ethics, which may be downloaded here: brill.com/page/ethics/publication-ethics-cope-compliance.

Online Submission

JEMH now uses online submission only. Authors should submit their manuscript online via the Editorial Manager (EM) online submission system at: editorialmanager.com/jemh. First-time users of EM need to register first. Go to the website and click on the "Register Now" link in the login menu. Enter the information requested. During registration, you can fill in your username and password. If you should forget this username and password, click on the "send login details" link in the login section, and enter your e-mail address exactly as you entered it when you registered. Your access codes will then be e-mailed to you. Prior to submission, authors are encouraged to read the "Instructions for Authors." When submitting via the website, you will be guided stepwise through the creation and uploading of the various files. A revised document is uploaded the same way as the initial submission. The system automatically generates an electronic (PDF) proof, which is then used for reviewing purposes. All correspondence, including the editor's request for revision and final decision, is sent by e-mail. When submitting online for the first time, the author is requested to fill out a contact form, where the full address, including an e-mail address and telephone or fax number (when available) can be entered.

Double-blinded Peer Review

JEMH uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are, and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). When you submit your article via Editorial Manager, you will be asked to submit a separate title page that includes the full title of the manuscript, the names and complete contact details of all authors, the abstract, keywords, and any acknowledgement texts. This page will not be accessible to the referees. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymized.
Instructions for Authors

File Format
Text files should preferably be in either WordPerfect or Microsoft Word format (and saved as .doc., .wpd, .txt or .rtf. Illustrations files should always be submitted separately as source files.

Contact Address
For any questions or problems relating to your manuscript please contact the journal office at: jemh@umn.edu. For eventual questions about Editorial Manager, authors can also contact the Brill EM Support Department at: em@brill.com.

Books for Review
Publishers should please do not send unsolicited books for review, as they will not be returned. We commission reviews directly from scholars in the field and will contact you on a case-by-case basis.

Submission Requirements
The journal is peer-reviewed, which means that all manuscripts will be read by one or more outside readers before acceptance for publication. Manuscripts that are submitted for initial consideration should therefore be complete, including all notes, bibliographical references, tables, etc.

Language
Manuscript should be written in English; American spelling and punctuation are preferred. Spelling should be consistent throughout. Please use your spelling and grammar check; final versions that are not corrected may be returned for renewed proofreading.

Non-Roman Scripts and Transliteration
Single words or phrases in a non-Roman script must be fully transliterated. Indented quotations may be given a non-Roman script, as long as they are clearly legible. Unvocalized text should be used, unless the argument calls for a vocalized form. When transliteration is used, the system should be identified in a note. The first usage of a non-English word should be followed by the translation in parentheses, e.g., affogati
Diacritical marks should be used where appropriate (e.g., in German, umlauts should be used rather than spelling with an extra “e”; the “sharps,” however, may be rendered by “ss”).

Length
The final draft of a manuscript accepted for publication should be 6,000–8,000 words in length.

Manuscript Structure

General Information
The Journal reserves the right to copy-edit contributions to conform to its style. Manuscript pages should be numbered consecutively and double-spaced. Although they will be published as footnotes, notes may also be submitted as endnotes, consecutively numbered, and included as a separate document. Captions (including proper acknowledgements) should be placed at the appropriate position in the article text or sent separately. Do not use desktop publishing features such as justification, centering, or different fonts within the body of the text. The use of italics should be limited to non-English words, book titles, and sub-sections. If a special font is used, please provide a copy of the font. TAB should be restricted to a paragraph indent. For general rules on style, please refer to the Chicago Manual of Style (16th ed., University of Chicago Press, 2010, or the most recent edition), online at: chicagomanualofstyle.org.

Abstracts and Keywords
Each article should include an abstract and keywords. Abstracts should be no more than 150 words, written in English, which clearly defines the article’s thesis. Keywords are a list of three to eight words that classify the article. Keywords can include names of historical actors, places, sources used, concepts, or any other term that would be useful in electronic searches for the article.

Section Headings
The first section of any article requires a section heading to differentiate the article body from the front matter (abstract and keywords). The default heading is Introduction, but any heading is fine. No other section headings are required, but others may be included. First level section headings should be in bold type, followed by a carriage return. Second level headings should be bold italics, without a carriage return. Section breaks with no heading should be preceded by an extra, blank line to designate them. Do not indent the first paragraph following a section heading.
Instructions for Authors

Endnote References

Though in final publication your notes will be set as footnotes, the Journal asks that you format them as consecutively numbered endnotes.

References in texts and notes should be written in truncated Chicago style (no publisher).

For journal articles, please provide the doi number, if available.

− Francisci Barbari de re uxoria liber in partes duas, ed. Attilio Gnesotto (Padua, 1951), 92;
− Jacopo Berengario da Carpi, Berengario da Carpi: On Fracture of the Skull or Cranium, trans. L.R. Lind (Philadelphia, 1990), 41-44;

Bibliographic references should be given in full upon first mention. Repeated mention of the same reference should be abbreviated as follows:

− Carlson, Marriage, 12; McDermott, "Bondservants in the T'ai-hu Basin," 690.

References to recent literature should preferably be to the original editions, not or not only to reprints or translations. Please do not include a separate bibliography. (See the Chicago Manual of Style for additional guidelines.)

Abbreviations and Acronyms

Any abbreviation or acronyms used should appear in full on its first appearance in the manuscript, with the abbreviation or acronym in parentheses: Journal of Early Modern History (JEMH). The shortened version may be used thereafter.

Capitalization

Follow the most recent edition of Webster's Collegiate Dictionary for questions on capitalization.

Dates and Time

Use the month, day, year, format.

In referring to time periods, please observe the following styles:

− Do not use “in the 16th century,” rather, say “in the sixteenth century” (noun) or “in sixteenth-century literature” (adjective)
− Use “mid-seventeenth century” (noun) or “mid-seventeenth-century” (adjective)
Instructions for Authors

- In “the 1580s,” or “the mid-1400s”
- “Between 1780 and 1785” but “the 1780-1785 period”

Figures
Illustrations should be submitted electronically and should be clearly marked. When necessary, crops, horizontal or vertical orientation, enlargement of details, etc. should be indicated.

All figures and tables must be cited consecutively in the text.

Figures should be submitted as separate source files in .eps, .tif, or .jpg format, in a size suitable for the typesetting area of the journal. The resolution of these files should be at least 300 dpi for half-tone figures, and 600 dpi for line drawings. Number the files, and indicate in the manuscript where they are to appear (Fig. 1 here).

The text in a figure must be legible, and should not be smaller than corps 7. The size of this lettering for any text in a figure should be the same for all figures in the manuscript.

Captions (including proper acknowledgements) should be placed at the appropriate position with the map or illustration or sent separately, clearly labeled in the file name.

Numbers
Please write out all numbers up to and including 100, as well as any numbers that can be written in two words (e.g. five hundred, twenty-six hundred). The exception to this rule occurs when a heavy cluster of numbers appears within a single sentence or paragraph, in which case numerals should be used.

Spell out fractional amounts (e.g. one-third, three-fourths) and do not use abbreviated notion for numerical ranges; use expressions such as “170 to 179” in the body of the text and “170-179” for page ranges in notes.

Where percentages are necessary, use numerals for the amounts and spell out the word percent (e.g. “While 47 percent of researchers...”). When percentages appear in parentheses to provide greater detail, use numerals and the percent symbol (e.g., “The majority (51%) of the researchers...”).

Quotations
For shorter quotations, double quotation marks (“ ”) should be used for the first level of quotation, and single quotation marks for quotations within quotations. Place periods and commas within quotes, but colons and semi-colons should be outside the quotation marks.

Quotations of more than four lines should be indented and double-spaced. They should not be enclosed in quotation marks.

Supplementary Media / Data Files
To support and enhance your manuscript, JEMH accepts electronic supplementary material, including supporting applications, high-resolution images, background datasets, sound or video clips, large appendices, data tables and other items that cannot be included in the article PDF itself. Authors should submit the material in electronic format together with the other manuscript files and supply a concise and descriptive caption for each file. In order to ensure that your submitted material is directly usable, please provide the data in one of the broadly accepted file formats for video, audio, etc. and limit the file size (e.g., for video: max. 3 GB). Supplementary files supplied will be published online at FigShare (www.figshare.com), to which reference is made in the published article on Brill Online Books and Journals, and vice versa.

Publication

Proofs
Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to authors by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. In the event of a multi-authored contribution, proofs are sent to the corresponding author unless otherwise requested. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, substantial author's rewriting will be charged to the contributor in question. Proofs should be returned promptly.

E-offprints
A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author's version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version without any embargo period. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

License to Publish

Transfer of Copyright
By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the License to Publish which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.
Open Access
Should the author wish to publish the article in Open Access he/she can choose the Brill Open option. This allows for non-exclusive Open Access publication under a Creative Commons license in exchange for an Article Publication Charge (APC), upon signing a special Brill Open Consent to Publish Form. More information on Brill Open can be found on www.brill.com/openaccess.
