Scope

Translocal Chinese: East Asian Perspectives (TCEA)《海外華人研究》is a peer-reviewed English journal that is jointly-published biannually by the Society of Overseas Chinese Studies (SOCS), Taipei, Taiwan, the Center for the Digital Archives of South Fukien Culture and Overseas Chinese Hometowns, (閩南文化與僑鄉數位典藏中心), National Quemoy University, and Brill. A transdisciplinary journal devoted to the studies of overseas Chinese communities in all their manifestations and contestations, TCEA focuses, however, on the region of East Asia. We study overseas Chinese border crossing networks disseminated from or converged in (pen)insular countries or zones such as Japan, North and South Korea, the Ryukyus, Taiwan, Kinmen (Quemoy), Hong Kong and Macao. We also welcome research on other mobile groups which are connected to, or whose experiences could be compared with overseas Chinese in and from East Asia. With an international editorial board consisting of leading scholars in the field, TCEA is interested in the intersections of East Asia and global history, and in comparative approaches to issues such as long-term identity formation, state building and market development under the conditions of globalism and transnationalism. Comprehensive in scope, focal themes may include business and investment networks, migration and settlement, citizen's participation and community building, the development of media and the arts, traveling and tourism, religious ideas and organization, and academic exchanges. To sum up, TCEA distinguishes itself by the focus on the crescent of East Asian (pen)insular states. By drawing attention to the thriving region of East Asia, TCEA aims to make a critical contribution to the current studies of overseas Chinese. Wide-ranging in its fields of enquiry, TCEA publishes critical essays in anthropology, migration, economy, sociology, geography, religion, media, business, militarization, marriage, literature, cultural studies, colonial and postcolonial identity formations, etc. TCEA accepts only English submissions such as research papers, bilingual research notes, book reviews, and academic interviews. TCEA however does not exclude research on other non-Chinese mobile communities and welcomes transnational and comparative approaches to the studies of overseas Chinese.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behavior for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill's publication ethics, which may be downloaded here: brill.com/page/ethics/publication-ethics-cope-compliance.

Online Submission

TCEA uses online submission only. Authors should submit their manuscript online via the Editorial Manager (EM) online submission system at: editorialmanager.com/tcea.
Instructions for Authors

First-time users of EM need to register first. Go to the website and click on the "Register Now" link in the login menu. Enter the information requested. During registration, you can fill in your username and password. If you should forget this username and password, click on the "send login details" link in the login section, and enter your e-mail address exactly as you entered it when you registered. Your access codes will then be e-mailed to you.

Prior to submission, authors are encouraged to read the 'Instructions for Authors'. When submitting via the website, you will be guided stepwise through the creation and uploading of the various files. A revised document is uploaded the same way as the initial submission. The system automatically generates an electronic (PDF) proof, which is then used for reviewing purposes. All correspondence, including the editor's request for revision and final decision, is sent by e-mail.

Double-blinded Peer Review

TCEA uses a double-blind peer review system, which means that manuscript author(s) do not know who the reviewers are, and that reviewers do not know the names of the author(s). When you submit your article via Editorial Manager, you will be asked to submit a separate title page that includes the full title of the manuscript, the names and complete contact details of all authors, the abstract, keywords, and any acknowledgement texts. This page will not be accessible to the referees. All other files (manuscript, figures, tables, etc.) should not contain any information concerning author names, institutions, etc. The names of these files and the document properties should also be anonymized.

File Format

Please upload source files, such as .doc files not .pdf files.

Contact Address

For any questions or problems relating to your manuscript please contact Prof. Ming-feng Liu, Editor-in-Chief, at: mf60129@gmail.com. For eventual questions about Editorial Manager, authors can also contact the Brill EM Support Department at: em@brill.com

Submission Requirements

Language

Manuscripts should be written in English and use American spelling.

Font

12 pt. Times New Roman font should be used for the body of the text; 10 pt. Times New Roman font should be used for footnotes.
Romanization and Chinese Characters
Transliteration of Putonghua (Mandarin) should be in Hanyu Pinyin.
Chinese characters that are not proper nouns should appear in italicized, un-capitalized Pinyin. Unlike in references, spacing of Pinyin in the text should group characters semantically and is up to the discretion of the author (i.e. 海外華人 may appear as “overseas Chinese” or as “haiwai huaren.”) Chinese characters may be included in the text, in parentheses following the transliteration. In the case of transliteration of other Chinese dialects/speech groups, indicate, for example, C for Cantonese, H for Hokkien (Minnan-ren or Minnan-hua), K for Hakka (Kejia), etc.
Individuals’ names in Chinese should appear in pinyin with surname first and given name represented as one unhyphenated word: Song Meiling.
Exceptions to pinyin use:
− If a name or other proper noun is commonly or traditionally known in English by a non-pinyin transliteration, it should appear in the text in its commonly known form, e.g., Sun Yat-sen.
− If a Chinese author has published works in English under a non-pinyin or English-order (given name, surname) name, that commonly known name should be used. For example, 張愛玲 should appear as Eileen Chang.

Length
A research article submitted to TCEA should be no more than 10,000 words.
A research report should not exceed 5,000 words, double-spaced, and should contain original data.
Unlike a full-length article, a research report needs not be presented in a thorough theoretical context. Research reports will normally be reviewed by the chief and executive editors, and if necessary, in consultation with a relevant member of the editorial board.
A book review should contain 1,000-1,200 words in English.

Manuscript Structure

Title Page File
The author’s name and affiliation, together with the abstract and keywords should appear on a separate title page only.
Each article should start with the title of the paper, in the sequence of main text (divided into sections with footnotes included, if any), and References Cited.

Abstract and Keywords
If accepted, the author will be asked to send the final revised version together with a final abstract of 100-150 words (in English only).
Three to five keywords are required, to be inserted between the Abstract and the beginning of the main text.
Instructions for Authors

Biographical Note
A biographical note is needed, of not more than 80 words (in English only) including the e-mail address. It should be inserted as a footnote (number 1) after the first word or the first sentence of the main text.

Acknowledgments
If wished, an Acknowledgments section of 100-150 words may be inserted between the end of the main text and the list of references (bibliography).

Dates
June 17, 2003; 100 BCE; 600 CE; the 1980s (not the 1980’s).

Quotations
Use double quotation marks (‘) for a simple quotation. For a quotation within a quotation, use single quotation marks (‘). A comma or a period (full stop) should be placed inside quotation marks in all situations.
For texts longer than 3 lines, use a block quotation, indented half an inch from the left margin. In this case, no quotation marks are necessary at the beginning and end of the quotation.

Bibliography and Text Citation
All text citations should be in footnotes, not endnotes. Footnote numbering should run throughout the article. Footnote reference numbers in the main text should follow any punctuation mark(s). An example is provided below.

Being an influential rice dealer in Saigon, Siam, and Hong Kong, Tan Kim Ching (陳金鍾) was a top Chinese leader in the region. His influence reached beyond the Chinese community: he was also knighted by the Siamese King, Chulalongkoorn.¹

Chicago-style citations in footnotes and the bibliography should generally follow the styles of the templates below. In English-written articles, when original publications are in Chinese, Chinese information should also be provided. Pinyin syllables in citations and in the text should be grouped together into words as accurately as possible according to the discretion of the author/editor. Please note that in footnotes, Western author names appear with the given name first and surname last, while Chinese/Korean/Japanese author names appear with surname first and given name last. In the bibliography, both Western and East Asian author names appear with surname first and given name last. Please consult the following samples or the Chicago Manuel of Style Online (chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html).

Repeated References
The first time a source is cited, the footnote should be a full citation like those above. However, subsequent footnote references to a source that has already been cited may simply provide the author’s last name, a short form of the title, and the page or pages cited, all in English and pinyin.
Instructions for Authors

When there are two consecutive footnotes from one source, “Ibid.” should be used instead of the full or shortened citation.

Publication

Proofs
Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to each author by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication. Proofs should be returned promptly. Authors should also be aware that the publisher reserves the right to charge a fee for any changes made to final proofs other than corrections or compositor errors.

E-offprints
A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to authors for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO yellow publisher. The Author retains the right to self-archive the submitted (pre-peer-review) version of the article at any time. The submitted version of an article is the author's version that has not been peer-reviewed, nor had any value added to it by Brill (such as formatting or copy editing). The Author retains the right to self-archive the accepted (peer-reviewed) version after an embargo period of 12 months. The accepted version means the version which has been accepted for publication and contains all revisions made after peer reviewing and copy editing, but has not yet been typeset in the publisher's lay-out. The publisher's lay-out must not be used in any repository or on any website (brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-books-brill/self-archiving-rights).

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright
By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish, which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access
Should the author wish to publish the article in Open Access, he/she can choose the Brill Open option. This allows for non-exclusive Open Access publication under a Creative Commons license in exchange for an Article Publication Charge (APC), upon signing a special Brill Open Consent to Publish Form. More information on Brill Open can be found on brill.com/brillopen.
