African Diaspora

Editor-in-Chief: Karel Arnaut, University of Leuven
 Editors: Nauja Kleist, Danish Institute for International Studies, Jean Muteba Rahier, Florida International University

This scholarly journal seeks to understand how African cultures and societies shape and are shaped by historical and current diasporic and transnational movements. Contrary to assuming 'Africa' as a bounded geographical entity and the African diaspora as a single imagined community, the journal charts uncovered territories and entangled histories of plural diasporas and transnational movements from, to and within Africa. These include, but are not limited to, the Transatlantic, the Indian Ocean, the Middle East as well as Europe.

Journal of African Military History

Editors: Roy Doron, Winston-Salem State University, and Charles G. Thomas, US Air Command and Staff College

Individuals are eligible for free access to the Journal of African Military History until 31 December 2018, using access token JAMH4U. Visit brill.com/free4u for more information.

The Journal of African Military History (JAMH) is an international, peer-reviewed journal that publishes historical scholarship on war and society in Africa. The journal is particularly interested in exploring the issues of conflict, military and society relations, and social histories of the human experience during wartime. JAMH presents a new outlet in the study of military matters in Africa and the connections between military matters in Africa and the diaspora. This journal is an important new forum for historical researchers to connect their work to the broader fields of African History and Military History.

Bridging Humanities

Editors: Mirjam de Bruijn, Lucia Ragazzi and Eefje Gilbert, University of Leiden

Bridging Humanities – Platform for Alternatives Methodologies is a peer reviewed, interdisciplinary and multi-area online publication. The scope of Bridging Humanities is to publish original projects that include visuals and other kinds of digital sources as an integral part of the publication. Bridging Humanities includes original research from the humanities intended as an open field that is connected with other disciplines. Each publication is an interactive online space in which text and visuals are used as sources to produce and present knowledge from their field. Using this new format, Bridging Humanities encourages researchers to experiment with new methodologies for publication in which the importance of the digital is recognized as an integral part of the publication and research process.

SERIES

Arts and Archaeology of the Islamic World

Edited by Marcus Milwright, University of Victoria, Mariam Rosser-Owen, Victoria and Albert Museum, Lorenz Korn, University of Bamberg

This series is devoted to scholarship in Islamic art and archaeology. We encourage interdisciplinary perspectives on the study of visual and material culture. The series is committed to highlighting the diverse character of Islamic art and archaeology, and to providing fundamental resources for future research and teaching in these fields.

SERIES

Africa-Europe Group for Interdisciplinary Studies

Series Editor: Gregor Dobler, University of Freiburg, Germany

With this Series, the African-Europe Group for Interdisciplinary Studies (AEGIS) provides a venue for the publication of works drawn from the lively and expanding community of scholars with interests in Africa and its Diaspora. The AEGIS Series aims to publish books within the broad fields of study within the humanities and social sciences that would bring new approaches or innovative perspectives to the topics discussed. Titles comprise works that could also reflect established debate within African Studies if they provide new insights.

Clinical Trials and the African Person

A Quest to Re-Conceptualize Responsibility

Ike V. Iyioke, Michigan State University

Clinical Trials and the African Person offers an account of the African notion of the self/person within the clinical trials context. As opposed to autonomy-based principlism, this other-regarding/communalist perspective is touted as the preferred alternative model particularly in multicultural settings.

Africa Yearbook Online

The Africa Yearbook covers major domestic political developments, the foreign policy and socio-economic trends in sub-Saharan Africa – all related to developments in one calendar year. The Yearbook contains articles on all sub-Saharan states, each of the four sub-regions (West, Central, Eastern, Southern Africa) focusing on major cross-border developments and subregional organizations as well as one article on continental developments and one on European-African relations. While the articles have thorough academic quality, the Yearbook is mainly oriented to the requirements of a large range of target groups: students, politicians, diplomats, administrators, journalists, teachers, practitioners in the field of development aid as well as business people.

The Africa Yearbook Online offers access to all yearbooks and is automatically updated upon publication of the new yearbook. The Africa Yearbook is also available in print: brill.com/ayb.

Arabic Literature of Africa Online

Arabic Literature of Africa Online (ALA) is a bio-bibliography on the Arabic manuscript tradition in the African continent, which continued well into the 20th century CE. It offers authoritative information about African authors, the texts they wrote in Arabic, the manuscripts in which these texts are found, and the locations of these manuscripts, together with bibliographical references to the literature. Arabic Literature of Africa Online complements Brockelmann's Geschichte der Arabischen Litteratur (GAL) and is an indispensable reference work for students of Islamic cultures in Africa and of Islamic manuscripts in general.

All our online products are available for a free 30-day institutional trial. To arrange your trial please contact our Sales department at sales-us@brill.com (the Americas) or sales-nl@brill.com (Europe, Middle East, Africa & Asia-Pacific).
