Segregation of Roma Children in Education

*Addressing Structural Discrimination through the Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities and the Racial Equality
Directive 2000/43/EC*

Sina Van den Bogaert

In Segregation of Roma Children in Education, Sina Van den Bogaert examines, from the perspective of public international law, how the Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities (Council of Europe) and the Racial Equality Directive 2000/43/EC (European Union) have contributed towards desegregation of Roma children in education in Europe.

Assisted Reproduction in Israel

Law, Religion and Culture

Avshalom Westreich, Associate Professor, College of Law and Business, Ramat Gan, Israel

The theme of this BRP is the right to procreate in the Israeli context. Our discussion of this right includes the implementation of the right to procreate, restrictions on the right (due to societal, legal, or religious concerns), and the effect of the changing conception of the right to procreate (both substantively and in practice) on core family concepts.

The International Law of Youth Rights

Second Revised Edition

Edited by William A. Angel. Revised by Jorge Cardona, Giuseppe Porcaro, Jaakko Weuro and Giorgio Zecca

This work consists of both source documents and commentary on the historical trends to elaborate and codify international instruments and standards in this field as well as action taken by governmental, intergovernmental, and non-governmental organisations to promote and protect youth rights.

Stockholm Studies in Child Law and Children's Rights

General Editor: Pernilla Leviner,
Stockholm University

This series of studies on child law and children's rights seeks to provide timely and high-quality analyses of all issues relating to the interface of children and adolescents with their surrounding societies. The focus is on legal research results, but multi-disciplinary child-right-related studies also have an obvious place in the series. The diversity of contributions will be maintained by including scholarly works by academics and scholars from all geographical areas.

Children, Autonomy and the Courts

Beyond the Right to be Heard

Aoife Daly, University of Liverpool

In this book Aoife Daly reframes the status of children where courts decide their best interests, arguing that the Convention on the Rights of the Child 'right to be heard' is insufficient, and that autonomy should instead be the focus.

Children and the Responsibility to Protect

Edited by Bina D'Costa, Australian
National University, and Luke Glanville,
Australian National University

In this volume, which is a spin-off of the special issue of the journal Global Responsibility to Protect (vol.10/1-2, 2018), eighteen academics and practitioners examine the intersections of the Responsibility to Protect (R2P) principle and the theory and practice of child protection.

A Commentary on the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child

Edited by A. Alen, J. Vande Lanotte, E. Verhellen, F. Ang, E. Berghmans, M. Verheyde, and Bruce Abramson

This Commentary is legal in nature and provides an article by article analysis of all substantive, organizational and procedural provisions of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child and its two optional Protocols.

For every article, a comparison with related human rights provisions is made, followed by an in-depth exploration of the nature and scope of State obligations deriving from that article. Each chapter is written by an expert in the field of human rights.

The commentary is widely needed by actors in the field of children's rights, including academics, students, lawyers, judges, grass roots workers, governmental, non-governmental and international officers. A better understanding of the Convention's provisions will further the realisation of children's rights in all parts of the world.

The Companion to International Humanitarian Law

Edited by Dražan Djukić, Pre-Trial Division of the International Criminal Court, and Niccolò Pons, Kosovo Specialist Chambers

Investigating Civilian Casualties in Time of Armed Conflict and Belligerent Occupation

Manoeuvring between Legal Regimes and Paradigms for the Use of Force

Alon Margalit

The Companion to International Humanitarian Law offers a much-needed tool for both scholars and practitioners, supplying information accessible enough to enable a variety of users to quickly familiarise themselves with it and sufficiently comprehensive to be a source for reflection and further research for more demanding users. Its aim is to facilitate the practical application of IHL, and be of use to a wide audience interested in or confronted with IHL, ranging from professionals in humanitarian assistance and protection in the field, legal officers and advisers at the national and international level, trainers, academics, scholars, and students.

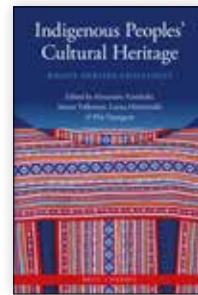

In this book Alon Margalit discusses the appropriate response to State-caused fatalities. Highlighting various legal and practical challenges, the State's duty to investigate is considered amid increasing public scrutiny and influence of human rights law during military operations.

Protecting Stateless Persons

The Implementation of the Convention Relating to the Status of Stateless Persons across EU States

Katia Bianchini, Max Planck Institute for the Study of Religious and Ethnic Diversity, Göttingen

The International Legal Status and Protection of Environmentally-Displaced Persons: A European Perspective

Hélène Ragheboom

Indigenous Peoples' Cultural Heritage

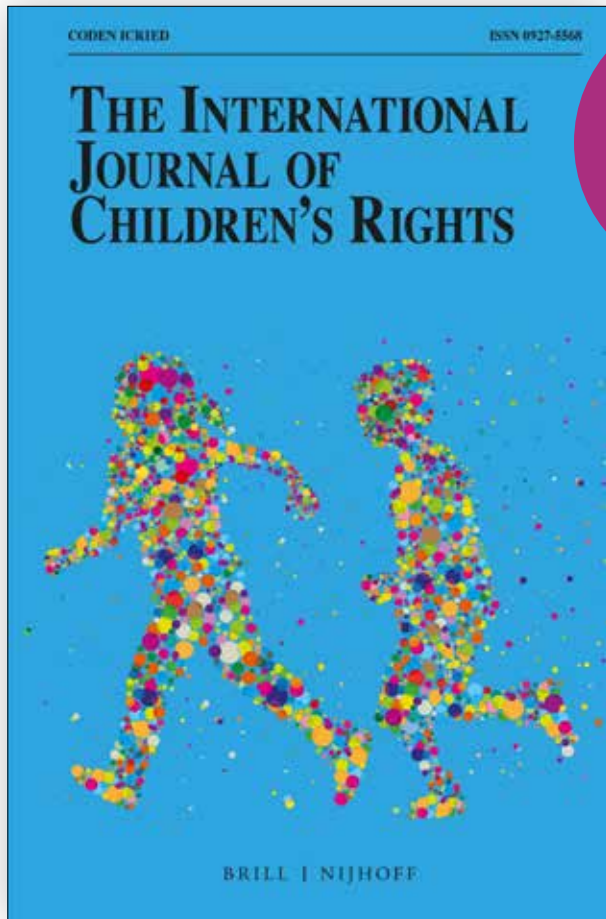

Rights, Debates, Challenges

Edited by Alexandra Xanthaki, Brunel Law School, UK, Sanna Valkonen, University of Lapland, Leena Heinämäki, University of Lapland, and Piia Nuorgam, University of Lapland

In Protecting Stateless Persons: The Implementation of the Convention Relating to the Status of Stateless Persons across EU States, Katia Bianchini offers a study of legislation, case-law and decision-making concerning the protection of stateless persons in ten EU Member States.

The International Legal Status and Protection of Environmentally-Displaced Persons: A European Perspective examines the applicability of refugee law and international human rights law in situations of environmentally-induced displacement, and explores possible future approaches to addressing the issue.

Indigenous rights to heritage have only recently become the subject of academic scholarship. This collection aims to fill that gap by offering the fruits of a unique conference on this topic organised by the University of Lapland with the help of the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights.
