Cases of the UNESCO Committee on Conventions and Recommendations

Communications examined under the 104 EX/Decision 3.3 Procedure of the Executive Board (1978-1988)

Edited by Leif Holmström

This unique collection is being published on the occasion of the 40th anniversary of the human rights procedure adopted in 1978 by the UNESCO Executive Board and also on the occasion of the 70th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. It provides an overview of the UNESCO procedure for the examination of communications alleging violations of human rights in UNESCO's fields of competence - education, science, culture, communication and information. This book is designed for all those who are concerned about and interested in human rights primarily. It will be a useful and practical tool for students, law professors, academics, human rights experts and human rights activists, and will be accessible to the general public involved in human rights and humanitarian affairs. It aims to provide the reader with a better understanding of UNESCO's role in the protection of human rights through discreet action and consultation.

The Future of EU Criminal Justice Policy and Practice

Legal and Criminological Perspectives

Edited by Jannemieke Ouwerkerk, Judit Altena, Jacob Öberg and Samuli Miettinen

EU criminal justice is a fast developing and challenging area of EU law and policy that requires scholars from different disciplines to join forces. This book is a first attempt to establish such synergies. Coming from different angles, the authors deal with questions in the area of EU substantive criminal law, such as when criminalisation of conduct is an appropriate choice; how the process of (de)criminalisation could be advanced; what the role of evidence could be in this regard; and what consequences criminalisation decisions at EU level have for national legal orders. The book concludes with a demonstration of how similar issues arise in the field of procedural criminal law.

READERSHIP: Scholars, students, policy makers and anyone else interested in the future of criminal law and EU law will benefit from the analyses and proposed solutions presented in this book.

Yearbook of International Organizations 2018-2019, Volume 6

Global Civil Society and the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals

Edited by the Union of International Associations

In 2015 the United Nations adopted a set of seventeen goals “to end poverty, protect the planet and ensure prosperity for all”, with specific targets for each goal to be achieved by 2030. These are the Sustainable Development Goals [SDGs] of the United Nations, or “Transforming our World: the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development”. The UN calls on governments, the private sector, individuals and civil society bodies to join together to achieve these goals.

To assist the research community in following related developments, the Union of International Associations has reoriented Volume 6 of the Yearbook of International Organizations. This volume groups international organizations by the seventeen SDGs, indicating which organizations are concerned with which SDGs. Each organization is listed with its complete address.
