Commentaries on World Trade Law Online

Editors: Peter-Tobias Stoll and Holger Hestermeyer

Commentaries on World Trade Law is a comprehensive, standard reference work on WTO Law. The Commentaries explain the provisions of the WTO Agreements article by article, setting out the interpretation of each article in the case law, in practice and in scholarly writing. Building on the leading reference, Max Planck Commentaries on World Trade Law, this fully revised and updated second edition brings together the writings of a team of more than 100 of the world’s leading scholars, practitioners and former members of the Appellate Body.

For the broadest comparative research advantage, each of the 392 articles follows a uniform structure including:
A. General
B. Historical Development
C. WTO Secretariat
D. Director-General
E. Evaluation and Outlook
Documents and Case Law

International Encyclopedia of Comparative Law Online

Editors: K. Zweigert† and Ulrich Drobnig

Available online for the first time, the International Encyclopedia of Comparative Law Online offers full-text searching across all archival content published in this renowned reference work over the last three decades. The Encyclopedia is the first broad, systematic and international compendium of comparative law.

This massive work represents the labour of hundreds of lawyers and scholars throughout the world. It is undoubtedly the most extensive and thorough examination of comparative law on the international level ever published. It incorporates not only detailed descriptions of the legal systems of more than 150 countries but, above all, thoroughly documented comparative analyses of the main issues in civil and commercial law and related issues world-wide.

The original print edition consists of 17 volumes, each divided into 6-20 chapters and written by relevant specialists following intensive research and preparation.

The Max Planck Yearbook of United Nations Law (UNYB), founded in 1997, appears under the auspices of the Max Planck Foundation for International Peace and the Rule of Law. Volume 26 of the UNYB features a special thematic forum on ‘The International Court of Justice at 75: an Assessment’. In light of the recently concluded 75th anniversary of the Court’s inaugural sitting, this edition of the UNYB features a curation of contributions that critically engage with and examine the work of the ICJ throughout these years. Additionally, a few select articles related to the general editorial scope of the UNYB (‘The Law and Practice of the United Nations’ or ‘Legal Issues Related to the Goals of the United Nations’) have been featured herein.

By concentrating on issues connected with the UN and its initiatives, the UNYB aims to facilitate an understanding of the changes the UN has been undergoing since its foundation. It also provides a forum in which the potential of international organizations to affect the future course of international law and relations can be examined and assessed. The UNYB addresses both scholars and practitioners, giving them insights into the workings, challenges and evolution of the UN.
European Yearbook / Annuaire Européen, Volume 70 (2022)
Edited by the Council of Europe

The European Yearbook promotes the scientific study of nineteen European supranational organisations and the OECD. Each volume contains a detailed survey of the history, structure and yearly activities of each organisation and an up-to-date chart providing a clear overview of the member states of each organisation.

Yearbook of the European Convention on Human Rights / Annuaire de la convention européenne des droits de l'homme
Volume 65 (2022)
Edited by the Council of Europe/Consil de l'Europe

The Yearbook of the European Convention on Human Rights, is an indispensable record of the development and impact of the world's oldest binding international human rights treaty. It reviews the implementation of the Convention both by the European Court of Human Rights and by the Council of Europe's Committee of Ministers, responsible for supervising the application of the Court's judgments in the member states.

The Australian Year Book of International Law
Volume 41 (2023)
Esmé Shirlow, Australian National University, and Donald R. Rothwell, Australian National University

The AYBIL uniquely combines scholarly articles, invited lectures, book reviews and Australian government contributions on Australian legislation, cases and State practice relevant to international law. Volume 41 also features a collection of articles from the Four Societies Conference on areas beyond national jurisdiction.

Hague Yearbook of International Law / Annuaire de La Haye de Droit International
Vol. 35 (2022)
Edited by Jure Vidmar, Maastricht University, and Ruth Bonnevalle-Kok, University of Aruba

This Special Issue of Yearbook stems from a conference organised by the Maastricht University Study Group for Critical Approaches to International Law in April 2022. The conference, entitled ‘Deconstructing International Law,’ invited participants to reflect on and dismantle some of the foundational ideas of international law.

International standards play an important role in the regulation of global trade. This book investigates who actually develops these standards and how the design of international trade agreements influences international standardization, and vice versa.

READERSHIP: Students, practitioners, and academic researchers interested in the political economy of international trade regulation and international standardization.

Global Risks and International Law

The Case of Climate Change and Pandemics

Sarah Cassella,
Université Paris Cité

Global risks present formidable challenges to international law. Although they have long been identified in other scientific disciplines, they still lack a legal definition. Drawing on the practice related to the cases of climate change and pandemics, this book aims to identify the main legal elements that characterise global risks and to analyse the changes they bring.

READERSHIP: This book is aimed at academics, practitioners, as well as at LLM and PhD students.

Hospitality & Construction Disputes Post-Covid

Steven G. Shapiro, American University, Shaheefa Lalani, University of Lausanne, and Derek Heath, University of Lausanne

With contributions from global experts, including legal practitioners and academics, this book addresses pressing issues relating to international disputes in the hospitality and construction industries. Insights and predictions are based on current practices that will help parties, counsel and arbitrators navigate complex topics.

READERSHIP: Attorneys and executives engaged in international disputes in construction and hospitality matters, arbitrators navigating complex proceedings, law students, and arbitral institutions formulating best practices.
