Russian Revolution
Centenary
Dear reader,

On 7 November 1917, Bolshevik leader Vladimir Lenin led his leftist revolutionaries in a revolt against the ineffective Provisional Government (Russia was still using the Julian calendar at the time, so period references show a 25 October date).

Brill is pleased to present our most recent publications on the 1917 Russian Revolution. In this catalog you will find books and e-books, online primary sources, microfiche collections and journals on this subject.

Please also note on the following page our Russian Revolution Centenary E-Book Collection offering 22 carefully selected e-books, covering numerous aspects of the Russian Revolution, its genesis and antecedents, its context, its impact, its adherents and opponents in Russia and beyond, and its aftermath. The books in this collection were published between 2007 and 2017.

To stay informed on Brill’s titles, activities and events during this Centenary year, please visit our dedicated web page: brill.com/Russia1917.

Historical Materialism Book Series

The Historical Materialism Book Series is a major publishing initiative of the radical left. The capitalist crisis of the twenty-first century has been met by a resurgence of interest in critical Marxist theory. At the same time, the publishing institutions committed to Marxism have contracted markedly since the high point of the 1970s.

The Historical Materialism Book Series is dedicated to addressing this situation by making available important works of Marxist theory. The aim of the series is to publish important theoretical contributions as the basis for vigorous intellectual debate and exchange on the left. We are convinced that a project of this kind can make an important contribution to the revitalisation of critical politics and intellectual culture.

READERSHIP: All interested in the history of the non-leninist communism, council communism, Herman Gorter’s Open Letter to Comrade Lenin and Anton Pannekoek’s Workers’ Councils.

The October Revolution in Prospect and Retrospect
Interventions in Russian and Soviet History

John Eric Marot, Keimyung University, Korea

John Marot tracks the development of Bolshevism from its inception in 1904 to the October Revolution in 1917. In the post-October period, the author, drawing on the work of Robert Brenner, shows that any NEP-premised programme of economic advance was destined to fail.

Witnesses to Permanent Revolution: The Documentary Record

*Western Marxism and the Soviet Union
A Survey of Critical Theories and Debates Since 1917*

Marcel van der Linden, International Institute of Social History and University of Amsterdam. Translated by Jurriaan Bendien

The documents in this volume demonstrate that Trotsky was one of several participants in a debate over Permanent Revolution from 1903-1907. The volume reassembles that debate and provides new insight into the formative years of Russian Marxism.

Readership: All those interested in Marxism, the history of the Russian Revolution of 1905, and the contribution of Leon Trotsky to revolutionary theory.

Collectivization and Social Engineering: Soviet Administration and the Jews of Uzbekistan, 1917-1939
Zeev Levin

_The Finnish Civil War 1918_ offers an account of the history and memory of the conflict and traces its legacy in Finnish society until today.

In the fourth year of the Great War, the growing military, political, social and economic costs hit all existing belligerents while as yet uncommitted states joined the global conflict. This book illustrates the crucial significance of this pivotal year.

Zeev Levin presents a study of the Jewish population of Uzbekistan at a time when the Soviet government was attempting to transform Jewish peddlers into peasants and factory workers – to fill the role of the new Soviet man.
