

Print your own flyer

Brill is delighted to announce a new feature on its website: the print your own flyer button. For each book and journal it is now possible to download your personal PDF-flyer directly from the website.

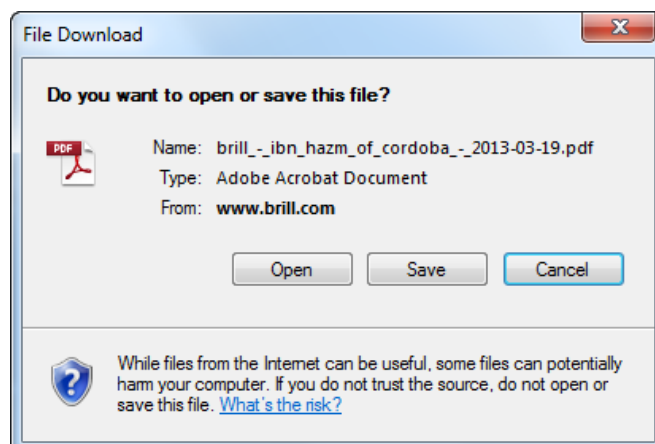

It takes only a single click on the “Print flyer” button of a book’s or journal’s web page to create the flyer. You can choose to save the flyer on your computer or open the flyer in your PDF viewer so you can read it, forward it electronically and print it. This easy-to-go flyer can be used to promote your own book, or to recommend it to your librarian, customers and other interested parties.

Here is how it goes:

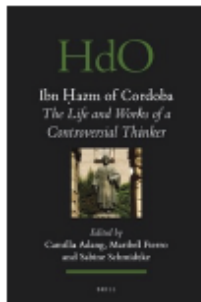

- 1) Go to the book of your choice, e.g. Ibn Hazm of Cordoba, by Camilla Adang, Maribel Fierro and Sabine Schmidtke (ISBN 9789004234246).
- 2) Click the “Print Flyer” button at the bottom of the blurb text.

The screenshot shows the Brill website interface. At the top, there is a search bar and navigation links: About, Careers, Contact, Downloads, Sitemap, Register, Login. Below this is a navigation menu with options: Home, Search Catalog, Publications, Services, Author Gateway, News, Corporate. The main content area displays the book 'Ibn Hazm of Cordoba' by Camilla Adang, Maribel Fierro, and Sabine Schmidtke. The book cover is visible on the left. The main text describes the book as 'The Life and Works of a Controversial Thinker'. A red arrow points to the 'Print Flyer' button located below the book description. Other buttons include 'Recommend', 'E-Newsletters', and 'Google Books'. The price is listed as €237.00 and $329.00. The 'Print Flyer' button is highlighted with a red box.

- 3) A pop up window will ask you whether you would like to save or open the PDF file:

4) This is how the flyer will look like:

This volume represents the state of the art in research on the controversial Muslim legal scholar, theologian and man of letters Ibn Ḥazm of Cordoba (d. 456/1064), who is widely regarded as one of the most brilliant minds of Islamic Spain. Remembered mostly for his charming treatise on love, he was first and foremost a fierce polemicist who was much criticized for his idiosyncratic views and his abrasive language. Insisting that the sacred sources of Islam are to be understood in their outward sense and that it is only the Prophet Muḥammad whose example may be followed, Ibn Ḥazm alienated himself from his peers. As a result, his books were burned and he was forced to withdraw from public life.

Contributors are: Camilla Adang, Hassan Ansari, Samuel-Martin Behloul, Alfonso Carmona, Leigh Chipman, Maribel Fierro, Alejandro García Sanjuán, Livnat Holtzman, Samir Kaddouri, Joep Lameer, Christian Lange, Gabriel Martínez Gros, Luis Molina, Salvador Peña, Jose Miguel Puerta Vilchez, Rafael Ramón Guerrero, Adam Sabra, Sabine Schmidtke, Delfina Serrano, Bruna Soravia, Dominique Urvoy, Kees Versteegh and David Wasserstein.

READERSHIP: All those interested in Islamic intellectual history (Arabists and Historians), the history of al-Andalus, the history of the Iberian Peninsula during Middle Ages, the history of Islamic theology and law, as well as interreligious relations.
