Submission of an article for publication in any of BRILL's journals implies the following:

1. All authors are in agreement about the content of the manuscript and its submission to the journal.
2. The manuscript has not been published previously, in part or in whole, in English or any other language, except as an abstract, part of a published lecture or academic thesis.
3. The manuscript has not and will not be submitted to any other journal while still under consideration for this journal.
4. All authors have fully disclosed any potential or actual conflicts of interest related to their submission, to include but not limited to funding, access to resources, motivations, methodologies, participants, and contributors.
5. If accepted, the author agrees to give BRILL an exclusive license to publish the manuscript and the manuscript will not be published elsewhere in any form, in English or any other language, without prior written consent of the Publisher.
6. If the submission includes figures, tables, or large sections of text that have been published previously, the author has obtained written permission from the original copyright owner(s) to reproduce these items in the current manuscript in both the online and print publications of the journal. All copyrighted material has been properly credited in the manuscript. For more information on reuse of figures, please click here.
7. The publication of a manuscript in a peer-reviewed work is expected to follow standards of ethical behavior for all parties involved in the act of publishing: authors, editors, and reviewers. Authors, editors, and reviewers should thoroughly acquaint themselves with Brill's publication ethics, which may be downloaded here.
8. By submitting to this journal the author(s) agree to the possibility of their article being submitted to iThenticate plagiarism detection software. The results of which will be available by report to the editors within the journal only.
