How to Add an Email Address to your Safe Senders' List

An increasing number of e-mail clients (Outlook, AOL, Hotmail, etc.) are including spam blockers that can affect delivery and display of some e-mail messages. This means that sometimes those desired e-mail communications might not reach you, or they might be displayed without images.

To ensure that you continue receiving your e-mail or your subscriptions, and that they display properly, we recommend adding the email address or domain to your list of safe senders. Here are some instructions to help you do that:

Instructions regarding email clients

Apple Mail

- Add the email address to your address book.
- In Training mode, emails will arrive in the INBOX highlighted in brown. In Automatic mode, junk emails will arrive in the Junk box. To add an email that arrived in the JUNK folder, highlight the email message.
- Choose Message > Mark > As Not Junk Mail

AOL

For AOL version 9.0: You can ensure that valued e-mail is delivered to your Inbox by adding the sending address to your "People I Know" list.

- Open your latest issue of Brill's E-Newsletter.
- Click the Add Address button (over on the right) to add that sender to your "People I Know" list.

Alternatively, you can simply send an e-mail to mailinglist@brill.com. Even if the e-mail you send doesn't get through (for whatever reason), the act of sending it does the job of putting the address into your "People I Know" list--and that's what counts. If you're using an earlier version of AOL, you'll need to set your Mail Controls instead. Here's how:

- Go to Keyword Mail Controls.
- Select the screen name Brill's E-Newsletters are coming to.
- Click Customize Mail Controls For This Screen Name.

For AOL version 8.0: Select Allow email from all AOL members, email addresses and domains.

- Click Next until the Save button shows up at the bottom.
- Click Save.

BRILL

For AOL version 7.0: In the section for "exclusion and inclusion parameters", include the domain of the "From" address (jangomail.com).

- Open the latest issue of the e-mail you want to whitelist.
- Click the More Options link. It's on the title line of the e-mail, over on the right, next to the date. (If you see "Hide Options" instead, then you already have the extra options visible and can just skip this step.)
- When the extra options are visible (just below the subject line), click the Add sender to contacts list link.

Alternatively, you can just send an e-mail to mailinglist@brill.com, and that will add the address to your Contacts list automatically.

Even if the e-mail you send doesn't get through (for whatever reason), the act of sending it does the job of putting the address into your Contacts list--and that's what counts. If one of your Brill E-Newsletters has been filtered into the Spam folder, you can prevent that ever happening again:

Others

Many popular e-mail programs, including older versions of Outlook, Outlook Express, Eudora, and Netscape Mail, don't provide a convenient way for you to white-list the contacts you want to receive e-mail from. If you're using this sort of e-mail system and you either aren't getting e-mail you value or want to make sure you continue to receive it in the future, you can do something about it.

Contact the customer service people or the postmaster at the company that provides your e-mail or Internet connection (your Internet Service Provider, ISP). Explain to them what subscriptions are e-mail that you asked for (or paid for) and value. Ask them if they can white-list the sender. (Unfortunately, some e-mail systems don't allow whitelisting.) If they do white-list, they'll probably ask you for some information about the publisher. Here's what to tell them:

- Sending Address: If your ISP asks for the "sender" or "from" address, give them the address mailinglist@brill.com.
- Domain: If your ISP needs to know the domain Brill is mailing from, try forwarding them one of our e-mails. The domain is in the "header" of every e-mail. If that doesn't work, please contact Brill at marketing@brill.com. There might be more than one domain, especially if you have multiple subscriptions.
- IP Address: If your ISP asks for the sending IP address, try forwarding them one of our e-mails. The "originating IP" is in the "header" of every e-mail. If that doesn't work, please contact Brill at marketing@brill.com.
