The Hague Journal of Diplomacy
The Hague Journal of Diplomacy

Aims & Scope
The Hague Journal of Diplomacy is the premier research journal for the study of diplomacy and its role in contemporary international relations. It publishes the best research on the theory, practice and technique of diplomacy in both its traditional state-based bilateral and multilateral forms, plus more recent forms of diplomacy such as track two diplomacy, field diplomacy and public diplomacy practiced by states and non-state entities. Each issue contains research articles and at least one piece focused on the practical aspects of diplomatic experience.

The Hague Journal of Diplomacy promotes the analysis and understanding of diplomacy by acquainting a broad audience of readers with the best works being undertaken in diplomatic studies in a variety of intellectual traditions. Diplomatic studies is an inter-disciplinary and inclusive field. The Hague Journal of Diplomacy is therefore open to the wide array of methodologies by which diplomacy may be studied.

Editors
Jan Melissen
Netherlands Institute of International Relations ‘Clingendael’, The Hague, The Netherlands
Department of Political Science, Antwerp University, Belgium

Paul Sharp
Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota, Duluth, MN, USA

Associate Editors
Brian Hocking (Loughborough University, Loughborough, UK)
Geoffrey Wiseman (University of Southern California, Los Angeles, CA, USA)

International Advisory Board
Zhimin Chen (Fudan University, Shanghai, China)
Raymond Cohen (The Hebrew University, Jerusalem, Israel)
Rik Coolsaet (University of Ghent, Gent, Belgium)
Andrew Cooper (University of Waterloo, Waterloo, ON, Canada)
James Der Derian (Brown University, Providence, RI, USA)
Eytan Gilboa (Bar-Ilan University, Ramat Gan, Israel)
John Hemery (Centre for Political and Diplomatic Studies, Oxford, UK)
Alan Henrikson (Tufts University, Medford, MA, USA)
Christer Jönsson (University of Lund, Lund, Sweden)
William Maley (The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia)
Iver B. Neumann (Norwegian Institute of International Affairs, Oslo, Norway)
Kishan S. Rana (Delhi, India)
David Spence (European Commission Delegation, Geneva, Switzerland)
William Zartman (School of Advanced International Studies, Washington, DC, USA)

Instructions to Authors
Articles for publication in The Hague Journal of Diplomacy may be submitted online at: http://www.edmgr.com/hjd. The complete instructions to authors may be found online on the journal website: http://www.brill.nl/hjd

The Hague Journal of Diplomacy (ISSN 1871-1901, E-ISSN 1871-191X) is published 3 times a year by Martinus Nijhoff Publishers, an imprint of Koninklijke Brill NV, PO Box 9000, 2300 PA Leiden, The Netherlands, tel +31 (0) 71 5353500, fax +31 (0) 71 5317532.