REPORTS FROM

THE Xth INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE
REPORT ON PUBLICATIONS

One of the highlights of the Tenth International Conference in Hammanskraal, South Africa was an evening when a number of editors of missiological journals presented a short overview of the scope and contents of their respective journals. Since not all the editors of journals could give a live report, the editor of Mission Studies invited editors of missiological journals to submit reports for publication there. In Vol. XVI, 1-2, 2000 our journal published a number of reports. One that was accidentally omitted was the following report from the Indian journal, Mission Today. Other editors of missiological journals are encouraged to send similar reports for publication in these pages.

MISSION TODAY: A JOURNAL OF MISSIOLOGICAL AND ECUMENICAL RESEARCH

1. History
- published as a formal journal since 1979 under the name of Indian Missiological Review (IMR). Since 1999 the name has been changed to Mission Today: A Journal of Missiological and Ecumenical Research.
- size: 22 x 14 cm.
- first format: 1979-1984; second cover design: 1985-1998; third cover design with new name: 1999 to the present.

2. Sponsor / Publisher
- Sponsor: Sacred Heart Theological College (A Don Bosco Institution)
- Publisher: Vendrame Institute Publications; printed at Don Bosco Technical School, Shillong, India

3. Circulation
- 1,500, including 150 exchange copies, mostly outside India

4. Frequency
- quarterly

Mission Studies, Vol. XVIII, No. 2-36, 2001