Instructions for authors

NORDIC JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

The Nordic Journal of International Law was established in 1930 by Doctor Eric Brüel, Copenhagen. Ever since, it has been the principal scholarly forum in the Nordic countries for the development of theoretical questions and the exposition of practice within the different branches of international law. The overall management of the Journal is vested in the Editorial Board, the members of which are selected from among the most prominent scholars and practitioners in the field of international law in Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden. Since 1994, The Nordic Journal of International Law is published and distributed by Kluwer Law International. It appears in four issues a year and reaches a world-wide audience.

Presentation of the manuscript

The journal encourages the submission of manuscripts on floppy disk (see 'Preparing text on floppy disk' below). Manuscripts should conform to the following guidelines:

Manuscripts should be written in standard English and submitted in quadruplicate (the original manuscript plus three photocopies, each including all tables, figures and references). The author should retain a complete copy of the manuscript. No fax transmittal is permitted except for urgent corrections. Submit four copies of the manuscript to the editor of the Nordic Journal of International Law:

Preparation of the manuscript

General

Type the manuscript on one side of A4 or letter size 8 1/2" × 11" paper. All material should be fully double-spaced throughout, including text, references and footnotes. All pages (including the tables, figure legends, references and footnotes) should be numbered consecutively. Type footnotes at the end of the manuscript. Leave 3 cm or 1 1/2 inch margin all around each page. Do not use fonts smaller than 12 characters to the inch, even in footnotes.

Typestyles, punctuation etc.

Use simple text style, italics (or underlines), or boldface (or wavy underlines) only. Italics or underlines should be used for the titles of books and journals and, where necessary, emphasis in the text. They are also used for headings for sub-sections of articles. Boldface or wavy underlines are used for headings of sections of an article. The use of italics or boldface should be kept to a minimum.

Capitals are used as required by standard punctuation rules. Single quotes are used for quotations, double quotes are used for quotes within quotes. Where a period or comma occurs adjacent to a quotation mark, it follows the single quote. Where a raised footnote reference number occurs adjacent to a punctuation mark, it always occurs after the punctuation.

Words should be used for numbers one through nine in the general text and for all numbers beginning a sentence. Numerals should be used for 10 and above, for all numbers with units of measure, and in a series of numbers when the highest number is above nine.

Ellipsis in cited material is indicated by three spaced periods. Where the ellipsis occurs at the end of a sentence, the three periods are followed by the original punctuation mark at the end of the cited material.

Manuscript format

The manuscript should be arranged in the following order:

- Title (the title should be concise and accurate, but should contain adequate information regarding the contents).
- Subtitle (this may be used to supplement and thereby shorten an excessively long main title).
- Author's full first and last names (if more than one, use & before the last author).
- Affiliations should be identified (including the city and country), and footnoted with superscript numerals for the respective authors.
