LITERATURE, 1500–1700
By Peter Fothergill-Payne, University of Calgary

1. General

lexicographical activities includes a short biography of this little studied figure. A. Cirurgião, ‘Pero Andrade de Caminha e a poetica’, ArCCP, 17: 79–92, attempts to define the slim merits of this poet. His conclusion is just if unflattering. Id., ‘Frei Agostinho da Cruz e o homo viator’, CoL, 63, 1981: 32–43, examines Br. Agostinho’s poetry from this point of view, the author’s training making him particularly apt to expound this type of verse.

2. Individual Authors

